SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, April 5, 1915

Hon. C. C. Young, Speaker of Assembly, Sacramento, California

MY DEAR MR. YOUNG: Will you kindly suggest to the members of the Assembly the desirability of appearing in person before the Senate committees to which their bills have been referred or of arranging with their Senator to have the bills taken up. As you are well aware, it is the custom not to consider a bill in the absence of the author unless at his special request. It is also the custom with the committees of either body to take up first for consideration bills introduced by members of the other house if such member be present and request that consideration be given to his measure. If early action can be had upon bills in this way it will greatly facilitate the work of the session.

Yours respectfully,

N. W. THOMPSON.

ASSEMBLY CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, April 7, 1915

MR. SPEAKER Your Committee on Ways and Means, to which was referred Assembly Concurrent Resolutions Nos. 21 and 22—Relative to fixing the time for the final adjournment of the Legislature—begs leave to submit the following report:

The general appropriation bill is fast assuming definite shape and has been largely checked over and tentatively agreed upon by your committee. The chief officers of the several State departments are now being heard by your committee relative to their needs with the purpose of fixing the final figures.

Concerning the special appropriation bills, your committee has dates set for hearing upon practically all these bills within the coming two weeks. Many of these bills are still in the hands of other committees.

The limited funds at the disposal of the Legislature will make the work of your committee most arduous, but the same is being carefully gone into, and your committee believes that within the next few days they can recommend a date for final adjournment which probably can be fixed somewhere between the dates mentioned in the above resolutions.

ANTONE QUINTAL, and others

By Mr. Bartlett:

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, March 26, 1915

Hon. Chas. L. Scott, Sacramento, California:

We, the faculty of the Logan street school, Los Angeles city school district, most urgently request you to support Assembly Bills Nos. 17, 1252, 1253, 1228, 1248, 1250 and 1242

ALICE G. PARKER, and others

By Mr. Wishard:

To members of the Legislature of the State Senate, Sacramento, California

We, the undersigned petitioners, humbly ask you to enact the present widow and mother's pension bill, which is now being considered before the Legislature. In so doing, we feel we are justified in asking this measure because seventeen of the states have already enacted such measures. Among the last, is the great state of New York, which has just passed the bill. In asking this, we feel sure the entire State of California is abundantly able to provide such a measure.

MARY E. DAVIS, and others

By Mr. Benton:

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, March 20, 1915

Mr. Richmond P. Benton, Member of the Assembly, Sacramento, California:

MY DEAR MR. BENTON: A vote recently taken in the Hollywood High School faculty, made up of fifty-six representative high school teachers, showed them to be unanimously opposed to Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 15, providing for a uniform series of textbooks for secondary schools.

Their objections to such legislation may be grouped under the following heads:

1. Uniformity of high school texts is a serious hindrance to advancement.

2. Compared with the importance of using the best at all times, the expense involved is insignificant.

3. Uniform free high school texts are unnecessary.

4. When printed in small numbers, texts are certain to be either inferior, or expensive.

5. A uniform system of textbooks for junior college departments, with their State University grade of work, and their diverse local problems, is absurd.

6 Arguments for uniform free textbooks for the elementary schools do not hold when applied to secondary schools.

Our reasons under the above different headings, for considering such legislation prejudicial to the best interests of secondary education in California, will be taken up more in detail below.

1 Uniformity a hindrance to advancement.

Our remarkable educational development in the West in recent years has been due largely to a wise freedom permitted in attacking new problems in new ways.

At the present time science instruction, and, to a somewhat less extent, mathematics instruction, is in a state of transition. The trend is toward making the instruction in both of these departments more vital by more closely correlating it with every-day experience. For this reason, if for no other, the present time would be a very unfortunate one for adopting a uniform system of textbooks.

A text which is the best for one school may be far from the best for another whose aims and conditions are different, as no school can do its best work without tools fitted to its need.

In adopting a text in botany, for instance, no attention could be given to the special needs of any community and the text must need be a compromise and, just to that extent, a misfit in every instance.

Some of the Eastern states are just now escaping from the yoke of more or less rigid syllabi for many of the high school subjects. In its worst form a syllabus would be preferable to a state-wide uniformity of texts.

When such sciences as physics and chemistry are changing as rapidly as at present, a textbook adopted even for four years may be entirely out of date before the end of that time.

2 Expense of change in texts comparatively insignificant.

Textbook publishers are always willing to make a liberal exchange allowance for second-hand books when replaced by new. Even if this were not so, the expense for new books is insignificant compared with the value of having up-to-date books. A lawyer would scarcely consider it good business to prepare a case with an out-of-date code before him simply because some one had given it to him.

As to the actual money value in after life of a four years' high school training, a careful estimate based on 2,000 actual workers has been made by the Massachusetts Commission for Industrial and Technical Education and shows that figured to an age of only 45 years, the high school student will receive, on an average, over $15 per day for each day spent in the high school while at an outlay of less than 5 cents per day each pupil can provide himself with a new set of the best and latest books to be had each year. Is it wise under these conditions for him to be satisfied with other than the best educational tools?

3 Free textbooks unnecessary.

The provision that boards of education shall furnish textbooks free to those who are unable to buy them meets all the essential needs of a universal free textbook law.

High school texts should be retained by pupils after graduation for reference purposes and should become the nucleus of a future library.

That free high school texts would tend to enlarge the State Printing Office, give employment to a few more men, and pay royalties to a few California authors, seems to us a very narrow and selfish view.

4 State printed secondary texts either inferior or expensive.

Cheap (not inexpensive) texts are a poor investment and tend to lower the student's valuation of the book.

In the higher courses of the modern language work, and in the four years of English so wide a reading is required that an adequate supply of texts is practically beyond the ability of the State Printing Office. A reduction of the number of these reading texts to the possible output of a state press would seriously limit the efficiency of these departments.

5 Uniform junior college texts.

One of the avowed purposes of the junior college is to give the students who are unable to go at once to a four-year college two years' additional instruction of a grade equal to that in the freshman and sophomore classes in the State University but particularly adapted to local needs. It is obvious: (a) that a uniform system of texts would effectively prevent any consideration of local needs, and (b) junior colleges certainly could not keep up to university standards if obliged to continue for a term of years the use of texts replaced in the universities and four-year colleges as frequently as once a year by more recent texts which bring the subject down to date.

6 Elementary schools differ from high schools.

Uniform free textbooks for elementary schools are not open to the same objections as are uniform textbooks for high schools.

Lower grade schools are chiefly engaged in teaching the rudiments. While here the methods may differ somewhat, the content does not change materially from year to year and the needs of all communities are quite similar, since there is little effort at specialization thus early.

There is not the need of frequent change in texts to keep up with the advance of the subject as there is in many high school subjects.

The kinds of texts are few, simple, and inexpensive, and are required in large numbers.

Elementary school texts are of little value to pupils after graduation.

For the above reasons, in the interest of the thousands of high school pupils in the State we ask that you oppose the passage of the legislation mentioned, and any other tending to hamper the progress of our secondary school system, or to prevent special localities from working out their own problems.

We are also unanimously opposed to Senate Bill No. 531, providing that high school courses shall be approved by the State Board of Education.

It seems to us entirely obvious that no central body can possibly be qualified to pass on the needs of separate and as widely differing communities as there are in this large and cosmopolitan State.

In the belief of many actively engaged in the actual business of teaching, whose first aim is the making of efficient men and women and good citizens, Senate Bill No. 531 contains provisions which can not fail seriously to hinder the advance of our secondary schools.

We ask that you make careful inquiry among educators as to the injury likely to result to the grade of work done in secondary schools, and to the thousands of pupils in them, before giving this bill your support.

Very respectfully submitted.

Said equalized assessment roll or rolls shall be sufficient evidence of title and of such possessory rights, for the purposes of this Act."

"SEC. 2 Section 2 of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Sec. 2 In order to propose the organization of an irrigation district a petition shall be presented to the board of supervisors of the county in which the lands within the proposed district, or the greater portion thereof, are situated, signed by the required number of holders of title, or evidence of title, including such aforesaid possessory rights to lands within such proposed district, and representing the requisite majority in value of said lands, which petition shall set forth generally the boundaries of the proposed district and also shall state generally the source or sources (which may be in the alternative) from which said lands are proposed to be irrigated, and shall pray that the territory embraced within the boundaries of the proposed district may be organized as an irrigation district under the provisions of this Act. The petition may consist of any number of separate instruments and must be accompanied with a good and sufficient undertaking, to be approved by the board of supervisors, in double the amount of the probable cost of organizing such district, conditioned that the sureties shall pay all of said costs in case said organization shall not be effected. Said petition shall be presented at a regular meeting of said board and shall be published for at least two weeks before the time at which the same is to be presented in some newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the county where said petition is presented together with a notice stating the time of the meeting at which the same will be presented, and if any portion of the lands within said proposed district be within another county or

When contained upon more than one instrument, one copy only of such petition need be published, but the names attached to all of said instruments must appear in such publication. On or before the day on which said petition is presented to said board of supervisors, a copy of said petition shall be filed in the office of the State Engineer. When said petition is presented, said board of supervisors shall hear the same and shall proceed to determine whether or not said petition complies with the requirements heretofore set forth and whether or not the notice required herein has been published as required, and must hear all competent and relevant testimony offered in support of or in opposition thereto. Said hearing may be adjourned from time to time for the determination of said facts, not exceeding two weeks in all. No defect in the contents of the petition or in the title to or form of the notice or signatures, or lack of signatures thereto, shall vitiate any proceedings thereon provided, such petition or petitions have a sufficient number of qualified signatures attached thereto. The determination of the board shall be expressed by resolution. If it shall determine that any of the requirements heretofore set forth have not been complied with, the matter shall be dismissed, but without prejudice to the right of the proper number of persons to present a new petition covering the same matter or to present the same petition with additional signatures, if such additional signatures are necessary to comply with the requirements of this Act. If the board of supervisors shall determine that the petitioners have complied with the requirements heretofore set forth, it shall cause a copy of the resolution so declaring to be forwarded to the State Engineer and shall postpone further hearing of said petition until a report shall be received from the State Engineer. Upon receiving a copy of said resolution, the State Engineer shall make or cause to be made such preliminary investigation as may be practicable, with a view to determining the feasibility of the project proposed to be undertaken. He shall report as soon as practicable in writing on the matter to the board of supervisors from which the copy of said resolution was received and such board of supervisors at their next regular meeting following the receipt of said report shall set a time for the consideration of said report provided that such time shall not be less than one week from such regular meeting of said board of supervisors, and provided, further, that notice of such time shall be given by registered mail to such party as shall have been designated for that purpose by the petitioners or by publication for at least three days in one daily newspaper published in the county in which the lands within the proposed district, or the greater portion thereof, are situated. If the State Engineer shall report that the supply of water available for the use of the proposed district, or that may be acquired by any practicable means, including the condemnation of existing rights, is not sufficient or that the project is not feasible for any other reason or reasons the petition shall be dismissed provided, that if the State Engineer shall report that a modified plan is feasible the board of supervisors may proceed in accordance with such modified plan. If the board of supervisors shall decide to proceed in accordance with a modified plan as recommended by the State Engineer, or if the State Engineer shall report that the plan outlined in the petition is feasible, the board of supervisors shall then proceed to a final hearing of the matter. On said final hearing said board shall, with the approval of the State Engineer, make such changes in the proposed boundaries as it may deem advisable and shall define and establish such boundaries, but said board shall not modify said boundaries so as to exclude from such proposed district any territory which is susceptible of irrigation from any of the sources proposed, unless said board shall decide to modify the plan for such proposed district as herein provided, nor shall any lands which will not, in the judgment of said board be benefited by irrigation by means or any of said systems of works be included within such proposed district. Any person whose lands are susceptible of irrigation from any of the proposed sources may, upon his application in the discretion of said board have such lands included within said proposed district.

"Sec. 3. Section three of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Said order shall be entered in full upon the minutes of said board. At said final hearing no evidence shall be heard against the genuineness or sufficiency of said petition or notice unless it shall be shown to the satisfaction of said board that new evidence which, if uncontradicted, would disprove the genuineness or sufficiency of said petition or notice, has been discovered since said board adopted the resolution declaring that said petition and notice complied with all the requirement of this Act. In case any new evidence is admitted, full opportunity shall be given for the introduction of evidence in rebuttal thereof."

"Sec. 4. Section ten of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

After receiving said report, if said report be favorable, said board of directors, if it shall be convinced and shall declare by resolution that the supply of water available for the use of the district is sufficient for the project for which the proposed bonds are to be issued, if said issue, or any part thereof, is to be used for the acquisition or construction of irrigation works, and that the said project is feasible shall make an order determining the amount of bonds that should be issued in order to raise the amount of money needed for the purpose or purposes for which said bonds are desired, provided, that said amount of bonds shall not be less than the amount specified by the State Engineer as necessary for the specific project or undertaking for which they are to be issued. And thereafter said board may immediately call a special election at which shall be submitted to the electors of such district, possessing the qualifications prescribed by this Act, the question whether or not the bonds of said district in the amount as set forth in said petition shall be issued. At said election questions as to the issuance of bonds may be submitted separately on the same ballot if estimates of the cost of the respective projects have been made and the State Engineer has reported thereon and the aforesaid petition has requested that said questions be so submitted and the respective propositions have been stated in the notices of the election. At such election the ballots shall contain a statement of the proposition or propositions to be voted on, including the amount of bonds proposed to be issued for such purposes. Each proposition shall be followed by the words "Yes" and "No," on separate lines, with a small enclosed space after each of said words. The electors shall vote for or against any proposition by stamping a cross (X) in the voting space after the word "Yes" or "No," respectively. If a majority of the votes cast for and against any proposition are for "No," the result of the vote on such proposition shall be so declared and entered of record. Whenever thereafter a petition of the character heretofore provided for in this section is presented to the board, it shall so declare of record in its minutes and shall thereupon submit such questions to said electors in the same manner and with like effect as at such previous election.

Such levy or levies shall be large enough to raise sufficient money for the entire completion of the project and the necessary property, waters and water rights therefor, in accordance with plans already adopted and approved by the State Engineer, or in accordance with such modified plan as the State Engineer shall determine is necessary and adequate for bringing water to the lands of the district."

"Sec. 13 Section 39 of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Sec. 39 The board of directors shall then, within fifteen days after the close of its session as a board of equalization, levy an assessment sufficient to raise the annual interest on the outstanding bonds, and in any year in which any bond shall fall due must increase such assessment to an amount sufficient to raise a sum sufficient to pay the principal of the outstanding bonds as they mature and all payments due and to become due the ensuing year to the United States under any contract between the district and the United States, accompanying which bonds of the district have not been deposited with the United States as in section 15 provided, also sufficient to pay in full all sums due, or that shall become due from the district, before the time for levying the next annual assessment on account of rentals or charges for lands, water or water rights acquired by said district under lease or contract, also sufficient to pay in full the amount of any other contract or obligation of the district which shall have been reduced to judgment. The secretary of the board must compute and enter in a separate column of the assessment book the respective sums in dollars and cents to be paid as an assessment on the property therein enumerated. When collected, the assessment shall be paid into the district treasury and be apportioned to the several proper funds. In case of the neglect or refusal of the board of directors to cause such assessment and levies to be made as in this Act provided, then the duly equalized assessment made by the county assessor of the county or each of the respective counties in which the district is situated shall be the basis of assessment for the district, and the board of supervisors of the county in which the office of the board of directors of said district is situated shall cause an assessment roll of said district to be prepared, and shall make the levy required by this Act in the same manner and with like effect as if the same had been made by said board of directors and all expenses incident thereto shall be borne by such district and may be collected by suit at law, which shall be commenced by the district attorney of the county whose board of supervisors caused said assessment roll to be prepared unless the amount of such expenses shall be paid within sixty days from the time when proper demand shall have been made therefor. In case of the neglect or refusal of the collector or treasurer of any irrigation district to perform the duties imposed by law then the tax collector and the treasurer of the county in which the office of the board of directors of such district is situated must respectively perform such duties and shall be accountable therefor upon their official bonds; but in case any county tax collector shall collect any assessment for any irrigation district, he shall pay the same to the county treasurer who shall place such money in a special fund to the credit of the district and shall disburse the same to the proper persons for the purposes for which such assessments have been levied and shall not pay any part thereof to the treasurer of said district until said county treasurer shall be satisfied that all of the valid obligations for which such assessments were levied and for which payment has been demanded have been paid. It shall be the duty of the district attorney of each county in which the office of any irrigation district is located to ascertain each year whether the duties relating to the levying and collection of assessments, as in this Act provided, have been performed, and, if he shall learn that the board of directors or any official of any such irrigation district has neglected or refused to perform any such duty said district attorney shall so notify the board of supervisors or the county official required by this Act to perform such duty in such case, and unless such board of supervisors or such county official shall proceed to the performance of such duty within thirty days after the receipt of such notice, the district attorney shall take such action in court as may be necessary to compel the performance of such duty, and said district attorney shall give such notice to other officials, and shall take such action as may be necessary to secure the performance in their proper sequence of the other duties relating to the levying and collection of assessments, as in this Act provided, provided that for the enforcement of the levying and collection of any assessment hereafter required to be levied and collected for the payment of any debt hereafter incurred in case complaint shall be made to the Attorney General of the State of California that the district attorney of any county has not performed any duty devolving upon him by the provisions of this section, or that he is not proceeding with due diligence or in the proper manner in the performance of any such duty, the Attorney General shall make an investigation, and if it shall be found that such charge or charges are true, said Attorney General shall take such measures as may be necessary to enforce the performance of the duties relating to the levying and collection of assessments, as in this Act provided. In case as the result of the neglect or refusal of any official or officials to perform any duty relating to the levying and collection of assessments, as in this Act provided, it shall be impossible for such duty to be performed within the time required and such duty shall subsequently be performed, then the time within which all duties consequent upon the performance of such duty shall be performed shall be extended so as to allow the elapsing of the intervals required by this Act to elapse between the performance of such duties, and the assessments herein provided for shall not become delinquent for at least thirty days after the first publication of the notice that such assessments are due and payable, as provided in section 41 of this Act. In the event any land within said district subject to assessment for the purpose of the district has not been assessed by the county assessor or does not appear upon the county assessment roll adopted by said board of supervisors as the basis of assessment for the district, the land so omitted belonging to any person, association, corporation, or municipality shall be forthwith assessed by the county assessor upon an order of the board of supervisors and a description of the property so omitted shall be written in the roll prepared for the purpose of district assessments. In such case, before any assessment is levied, the board of supervisors must meet and equalize said assessment with that of the assessment of other lands in said district. The same notice shall be given by the board of supervisors of such meeting for the purpose of equalizing the assessment to be made as herein directed as is provided in this Act to be given by the board of directors of an irrigation district when the said board is to meet for the purpose of equalizing assessments. All the powers and duties respecting the collection of all assessments on possession of claim to, or rights to the possession of land now provided in sections 3820, 3821, 3822, 3823, 3824, 3825 and 3829 of the Political Code, as regards county assessors, shall apply, so far as applicable, to irrigation district assessors.

"Sec. 14. Section 40 of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Sec. 40. The assessment upon real property is a lien against the property assessed from and after the first Monday in March for any year, and the lien for the bonds of any issue shall be a preferred lien to that for any subsequent issue, except that the lien for all payments due or to become due under any contract with the United States accompanying which bonds of the district have not been deposited with the United States as in section 15 provided shall be a preferred lien to any issue of bonds subsequent to the date of such contract, and such lien is not removed until the assessments are paid, or the property sold for the payment thereof."

"Sec. 15. Section 52 of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Sec. 52. Upon the presentation of the coupons due or of vouchers on behalf of the United States for payments due under any such contract to the treasurer he shall pay the same from the bond fund or United States contract fund. Whenever said bond fund shall amount to the sum of ten thousand dollars in excess of an amount sufficient to meet the interest coupons due, the board of directors may direct the treasurer to pay such an amount of said bonds not due as the money in said fund will redeem, at the lowest value at which they may be offered for liquidation, after advertising in the manner hereinbefore provided for the sale of bonds for sealed proposals for the redemption of said bonds. Said proposals shall be opened by the board in open meeting, at a time to be named in the notice, and the lowest bid for said bonds must be accepted, provided, that no bond shall be redeemed at a rate above par. In case the bids are equal the lowest numbered bond shall have the preference. In case none of the holders of said bonds shall desire to have the same redeemed, as herein provided for, said money shall be invested by the treasurer, under direction of the board, in United States bonds, or the bonds of the State, which shall be kept in said "bond fund" and may be used to redeem said district bonds whenever the holders thereof may desire."

"Sec. 16. Section 53 of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Sec. 53. After adopting a plan for such canal or canals, storage reservoirs, and works, as in this Act provided for, the board of directors shall give notice by publication thereof not less than twenty days in one newspaper published in each of the counties composing the district (provided a newspaper is published therein), and in such other newspapers as they may deem advisable calling for bids for the construction of such work or of any portion thereof, if less than the whole work is advertised, then the portion so advertised must be particularly described in such notice. Said notice shall set forth that plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the board, and that the board will receive sealed proposals therefor, and that the contract will be let to the lowest responsible bidder, stating the time and place for opening said proposals which, at the time and place appointed, shall be opened in public, and as soon as convenient thereafter the board shall let said work, either in portions or as a whole, to the lowest responsible bidder, or they may reject any or all bids and re-advertise for proposals, or may proceed to construct the work under their own superintendence, provided, that no such contract for such work shall be entered into by the board of directors, nor shall the board of directors proceed to construct the work under their own superintendence, without the prior written approval of the State Engineer. Contracts for the purchase of material shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder. Any person or persons to whom a contract may be awarded shall enter into a bond, with good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the board and the State Engineer, payable to said district for its use, for twenty-five per cent. of the amount of the contract price, conditioned for the faithful performance of said contract. The work shall be done under the direction and to the satisfaction of the engineer, and be approved by the board and the State Engineer; provided, that if such cost is to be paid out of the proceeds of any bond sale, the State Engineer shall designate a competent engineering inspector who shall be present as his representative during the entire progress of such work, or at such times as the State Engineer shall deem proper, and whose salary and usual subsistence expenses while on the work shall be paid by the district the same as all other district salaries and field expenses are paid, provided, further that the provisions of this section shall not apply in the case of any contract between the district and the United States.

"Sec 17. Section 54½ of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Sec 54½. Immediately after the publication of the statement of the financial condition of any irrigation district within this State, required by section 14 of this Act to be made annually, the board of directors of said district shall cause a copy of said statement and a report stating the general condition of any works constructed or acquired by said district and whether or not the plan of irrigation adopted by the district is being successfully carried out and any other matters which the board may deem proper, or the State Engineer may require, to be forwarded to the State Engineer, who shall examine said statement and report and make to said board such recommendations and comments as he may deem proper. Quorum present.

EULOGY BY MR. BROWN, HENRY WARD.

During the roll call, when the name of Mr. Rutherford of Nevada County was called, Honorable Henry Ward Brown arose and addressed the Assembly as follows:

MR. SPEAKER: Nevermore will the member whose name has just been called answer to the roll call of this Assembly. His place beside me is vacant, and his voice is hushed forever in the silence of death. The lingering and malignant fever, against which he so long, and heroically struggled, terminated fatally in the early morning hours of the 10th instant. It is with profound regret, and a grief, in which I know you all deeply share, that I make this sorrowful announcement.

At the proper time, this House, by appropriate resolution, will pay its tribute to the noble life, and high worth and character, of our late associate and friend, Frank M. Rutherford, but it seems fitting that we pause here for a few moments, while I briefly refer to his career and services in this House, and to a few of the traits in his character, which have endeared him to us all.

Frank M. Rutherford first entered the service of this State in the year 1901, when he became a member of this House in the thirty-fourth session of the Legislature. He also served as a member of this body in the thirty-eighth and thirty-ninth sessions, and was elected to the present House by a largely increased majority. From the time of his entry into public life, he was distinguished for his scholarly attainments, a thorough mastery of public questions and by an ambition for high ideals in politics which in a large measure, he was fortunate to see accomplished. As a legislator, he occupied an enviable and influential position; was liberal and broad in his views on all questions of state administration, and was thoroughly conscientious and honest.

Had not sickness deprived him of the opportunity, he would, by reason of his long experience, have been of inestimable service to his colleagues in this House, in the solution of the many difficult problems with which we have to deal.

In his home life, he was exemplary and affectionate. In his professional and business career, his conduct was ever honorable and without a blemish. He was loved, honored and trusted by his neighbors, and fellow-citizens. His death has created a vacancy in this House, in his home community, and the State, which it will be difficult to fill.

On motion of Mr. Benton, Mr. Edwards, L., and Mr. Long were granted leaves of absence for the day.

Prayer was offered by the Rev James Whittaker, Chaplain of the Assembly.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Gelder, the following eulogy of Kenton A. Miller, Grand Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, delivered upon the occasion of the death of the late Honorable Frank M. Rutherford, was ordered printed in the Journal:

Our love for Frank M. Rutherford impels us to add a word of tribute while thousands of our fraternity are with bowed head because of our irreparable loss.

They, and all assembled here join in sincere and silent sympathy and breathe a prayer that lighter burdens may fall upon already breaking hearts.

In our fraternity he stood upon the eve of its highest honors. He enjoyed its supreme confidence and with each new day he won a cherished friend.

At the high noon of life buoyant with expectant hope and while still in love with life, his voice was stilled and his companionship forever closed.

We call him Frank because upon the threshold of each acquaintance was made that close companionship which would not have it otherwise.

As a lawyer and in civic affairs he ever sought the right. He met each duty as it appeared from within the shadow with an open mind, a sincere heart and a manly purpose. These, supplemented with ceaseless labor and a devoted loyalty, told too heavily upon his physical strength, yet marked him as one wise and safe in counsel.

Above all else in his loss is the character and example of the man. His open and democratic life brought him close to all who knew him. He believed in Man, saw his good and his charity was broad enough to mantle all his frailties. He entered life's garden and ever delighted to pluck its most fragrant flowers with which to sweeten the atmosphere of all.

From those closed lips we recall his gentle words of wisdom and kindly admonition. His applause was ever ready for the daring victory snatched from the throes of conflict or won upon hard-fought fields. We remember him as one who in daily life reflected the sunshine of duty nobly done, who cheered a heart, brightened a home and followed with encouragement a wearied traveler in the struggling hours of adversity.

We garner those unselfish deeds as the richest heritage from the life of Frank M. Rutherford. There was no hypocrisy. He loved the companionship of men. The open held was his forum and he ever pointed to a widening horizon for greater and better things.

Amid his most pressing hours he gave consideration to friend and stranger alike. Were each of those who loved that kindly man to drop a rose upon his silent form, he would sleep today beneath a wilderness of flowers.

Against opposing hope he was masterful in mortal weakness.

His bed became the center of lavished love and anxious hearts. Yet who can tell what broken plans and disappointments crossed his mind and heart during those months of anguish?

From years of toil and preparation he had carried his burden up the hill and upon the open plains welcomed the fruition of its enjoyment.

Amid it all was the wife of his youth, whose whole life lay in his, the little boys and girls scarcely yet emerged from childish play, claiming a father's care, and day by day rewarding a father's love and within his courageous heart was a rejoicing power to meet the demands of all.

"A combination and a form, indeed

Where every God did seem to set his seal

To give the world assurance of a Man."

With the coming of the early morning while all Nature was bursting with evidence of a fuller life, surrounded by those near and dear to him and amid the anxious hush of loving friends, he quietly passed from the temporary shadow of a receding world and amid its silence his listening ear heard a friendly call, announcing an eternal morning upon a farther shore.

Also:

On motion of Mr. Johnson, the following eulogy by Honorable C. C. Young, Speaker of the Assembly, delivered upon the occasion of the death of the late Honorable Frank M. Rutherford, was ordered printed in the Journal:

I realize fully, as I know we all realize, how impotent and futile are any words at a time like this. Yet it has seemed fitting that I, as representative of the Assembly of this Legislature, should say a few words now to express our deep appreciation of the noble life, and our profound sorrow for the untimely taking away of our beloved colleague, Frank M. Rutherford.

In this body are some who knew Frank Rutherford in a personal way, entirely dissassociated from our acquaintanceship in these halls. And, as these warm personal friends have spoken to me of the life of this man, and of their relations with him, I have had it borne in upon me as to what a beautiful and holy thing is Friendship.

There are in this Assembly only ten men who have sat with Frank M. Rutherford in a former session. There are only five of us who have been with him for two sessions. I believe I speak for every one of these, his former colleagues, when I say that no truer friend ever lived than he—no nobler gentleman, no more upright and zealous servant of the State. His was a life of moral soundness, of intellectual honesty, of earnest and devoted service of all that is best in life and truest in life's ideals.

And withal he was so genial, so warm-hearted, so sunny-tempered that even in the brief week he was with us before his illness, he had made a lasting friend of every new member of this body with whom he came in contact. So much so, that during the long weeks of his illness—except, perhaps, for a brief period, when we all thought he was getting better—there was scarcely a day that passed when some one of these new members did not rise and ask for the latest tidings from his bedside. And when at last the end came, there was not a single man in this Assembly who did not feel stricken with the sense of keen, personal loss.

I shall always recall a conversation I had with Mr. Rutherford only two or three days before the beginning of his illness. We were talking over plans for the coming session, as to the future work of this Assembly. "I want to ask of you," he said to me, "that in laying out the committee work in which I may engage, you do not feel constrained, on account of my length of former service, to give me any ornamental appointments which mean so-called honor rather than work. I want to be put where I may work as hard as possible in the direction of some real service." And that, my friends, was the keynote of Frank Rutherford's being—to live a life of service.

Perhaps some among you do not know that our friend was stricken down with his fatal illness while presiding as chairman at the first meeting of the most important committee of this body—a soldier stricken at the post of duty.

I like to think, as I am sure we all must like to think, that thought which has comforted so many at a time like this. That just as the pebble cast upon the placid surface of the lake will send out waves, receding and ever receding until they touch the farthestmost shores, so the life of a strong and upright man lived among us must inevitably affect in greater or less degree every one of our lives.

We shall miss Frank M. Rutherford. We have already missed him sorely during his illness, and as the days go by we shall miss him more and more. But we shall be comforted in the fact that although no longer among us, his influence still lives, and must always live, that we are a little bit better men because we have known him; that this State of ours, which he loved so dearly and served so well, is a little bit better place to live in because he was a part of it. And that I suspect, so far as this life is concerned, is the thing that must ever make life most worth living.

Also:

On motion of Mr. Encell, the following eulogy of Hon. John M. Eshleman, President of the Senate, delivered upon the occasion of the death of the late Honorable Frank M. Rutherford, was ordered printed in the Journal.

In behalf of the Senate of the State of California I can but second the good things that have been said about Mr. Rutherford by the Speaker of the Assembly.

We are gathered here today to pay the tribute which the living pays to the dead. We stand as it were at a barred door, a door that has opened in the night and our brother passed through. And at this time I can not have much sorrow for him who is passed but more for those whom he left behind. Then sorrow, so much deeper than that of ourselves, we would soften if we could but we realize that it is beyond human power to comfort the heart that is bereaved by a loss such as this. We are not unmindful, however, that if he when he went took with him sorrow at all he took sorrow because he knew that his loved ones would grieve for him.

We can not make his life good or make it bad. He has done that for himself. And while we stand here with bowed heads and humble hearts in the presence of the mystery of death, still we should understand that it is no more a mystery to die than it is to live—that it is no more difficult to meet the problem that each must meet when death comes than it is to meet the problems that confront us in our lives. He but typifies the lot of us all, and through the barred door which he has passed we too each must go. And we say to him, "Oh, thrice and four times blessed because although thou hast gone out in the full strength of thy years thou hast nevertheless gone forth burdened with honors. Though thou hast left behind those sorrowing ones, thou hast left to them a good name. Yes, and blessed art thou that thou hast fulfilled thy duty not only to thy generation but to thy posterity." And when we stand at this barred door when we bow before this mystery we cannot make it ill or good for him for he did that for himself and he did it while he lived. And the problem of how to live is the problem we now must face, and having faced it as men shall do, when that time comes when we too shall pass as in the night, may it be said of each of us, as it may be said now of him, "It is well with him."

Also:

On motion of Mr. Dennett, the sermon of Rev. James Whittaker, delivered upon the occasion of the death of the late Hon. Frank M. Rutherford, was ordered printed in the Journal:

It is a sad duty that devolves upon me at this hour, one that I never expected to have, and one that I would have put far from me if a word or act of mine could have caused our dear brother to live. This is the termination of an earthly friendship that began over twenty years ago, and as I stand here and think of Frank M. Rutherford in the cold embrace of death, I remember how he came to us with gracious consolation during one of the greatest sorrows that ever came into our lives, and the spirit he showed then, has been exhibited by him to everybody and everywhere during all the years that intervened since then.

I might speak today of his ambitions, his struggles, his manliness, his love for his friends, his work for the State, but those who have preceded me have done that well, and not one word too much has been said and every tribute paid to our brother, and every honor given to him, has been worthily bestowed. The love exhibited by the people of his own town during his weeks of illness, the telegrams of sympathy sent, the expressions of sorrow over the telephone, the constant stream of friends to the house, and these tributes laid at his bier are a testimony to his worth.

My special duty this morning is to throw a ray of light, and the brightness of a glad hope into the blackness of the night that surrounds the members of his family as they sit here with bowed heads and broken hearts. There is much comfort in knowing that he lived an upright, pure, noble, helpful life, and the fourteen weeks of tremendous struggle to overcome disease showed that his cleanness of life had given him vitality for the conflict.

Beloved, you may not be blessed with an abundance of wealth as the result of his accumulations but you have a richer heritage. That of knowing you had a devoted and loving father, husband and brother, who possessed a noble character, a stainless name, and who did nobly and well every duty imposed upon him. His life will shine forth with brighter luster in your eyes as the years move on, and you will remember him with an ever increasing love.

It is sad that a man with such a keen mind, such a noble soul, such a clean life, should be cut off in the midst of his years, when there was so much for him to do, and ere he had reached on life's highway, the stone that marks its highest point, and it we depended on our shortsighted vision we might say with another, "Why such waste?" The word of our God assures us that this is not the end but the beginning. All the study, the sacrifice, the toil, the helpful service, have added to character that shall shine forever. As when a student graduates from college he is at the open gateway of life, so when the pure and noble soul leaves its tenement of clay it enters the gateway of immortality.

An ancient philosopher asked this question, "If a man die shall he live again?" That was a long, long time ago and yet it is ever with us. It has been asked by priest and prophet, poet and philosopher in every age and in every clime. The answer of man's heart is, "There must be a life beyond the grave." There must be a yet larger life. Nature offers some analogy that gives us a hope. The caterpillar breaks the chrysalis where for a time it has been entombed, it crawls upon the ground for a while until its wings develop when it soars into the sunshine of heaven. The little bird bursts the shell and flies into God's open sky and sings continual praise to its maker. The unsightly bulb lying apparently dead in the cold, damp earth breaks forth into beauty and glory. Why should not man rise to greater power and glory? The Bible comes with its promises of life, for "Life and immortality were brought to light by the Gospel." Jesus said "I go to prepare a place for you and if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you unto myself, that where I am there you may be also." A story is told of a landsman who had never seen the sea, or a boat, until he visited a shipyard where a ship was just being prepared to be launched. Looking at it he said, "What a strange house with its floor on the top and the roof on the bottom; that thing was not built to stay here." And when a little later he saw her glide into her natural element he said "I told you so." As we look at man with his vast capabilities of mind and heart may we not say "It was never meant that he should stay here but was made to rise into fellowship with God and dwell in the sunlight of a blessed eternity?"

Victor Hugo said "I feel in myself the future life. I am like a forest cut down—the new shoots are stronger and livelier than ever. I am rising I know toward the skies. The sunshine is on my head. The earth gives me generous sap, but heaven lights me with the reflection of the unknown world. There is no question in my mind about eternity and a future life."

I want to tell you this morning that when I bowed in prayer with your loved one he responded to the sentiment expressed and a sweet peacefulness settled upon his face. Others have been near to him in his hours of sickness and found that he had a deeply religious nature. I feel assured he had his eyes on Eternity. I am satisfied his soul has taken its flight to the Realm of Light. Do not think of him as here but Yonder. Do not think of him as gone out of your life but think of him as yours still and ever urging you onward. Do not think of him as lost but gone before. And may the consolations of Divine Grace rest upon you and God's help and protection be given unto you at all times. We may well learn a lesson of devotion to duty and, to our good, follow in the footsteps of our brother.

The morning star has drawn away the shades
Of night, and the great light now begins

To dawn for us

Our brother from whose face

Has gone expression which was wont to show

His wealth of heart, whose eyes no more will see

'Tis here whose hand will not again enclasp

Our own whose voice is still to us forever on earth

Has left a priceless boon, in memories which

Will oft revive through decades of years

To come! He was a loving brother.

A faithful friend A tender husband,

A father kind and true;

None knew him but to love him,

And we show our love by tender sympathy.

Loving words and a wealth of flowers

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE—(OUT OF ORDER)

The following message from the Governor was taken up and read:

To the Assembly of the State of California:

In pursuance of the provisions of section 16 of article IV of the Constitution, I return to you herewith Assembly Bill No. 266 without my approval. My objections to this bill and the reason for my veto are as follows:

The Act was prepared at the instance of Hon. John S. Chambers, Controller of the State, and its author, the Hon. L. L. Bennett, acted in its presentation in conjunction with the Controller. The design of the Act, as related to me, was to facilitate the work of the Controller's office in affixing the certificate required by the existing law to be placed upon irrigation district bonds, and it was provided, therefore, that this certificate might be printed or impressed by stamp upon the bonds. Unfortunately, at the end of the provision thus permitting printing or impressing by stamp, occurs the clause "And when thus certified such bond shall be incontestible for any cause." The Controller objects to this language and does not desire that any certificate of the character mentioned which he is required by law to affix to a bond, shall render that bond incontestible. It is an added burden and responsibility which, under the circumstances, should not be placed upon the Controller.

After the bill had passed the House, it was agreed between the Controller and the author of the bill that the objectionable words should be stricken out by the Senate, but by an oversight this was neglected by the Senator to whom the matter was referred. The bill can be readily re-enacted and accomplish the original purpose by omitting the clause quoted.

Respectfully submitted.

HIRAM W. JOHNSON, Governor

Dated: Sacramento, April 12, 1915

NOTICE OF MOTION TO RECONSIDER.

Mr. Johnson gave notice that on the next legislative day he would move a reconsideration of the vote whereby Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 40 was this day refused passage.

RESOLUTION—(OUT OF ORDER).

The following resolution was offered:

By Mr. Conard:

Pursuant to a resolution of the Assembly adopted on the 1st day of April, 1915, as appears on pages 11 and 12 of the Journal of that date, members of the Legislature attended the Exposition at San Diego on April 10, 1915, which day had been set apart as California Legislature Day.

The trip was made by special cars over the Central California Traction Company's lines to Stockton, and thence by special train over the Santa Fe Railway to San Diego, going via San Bernardino and Riverside and returning through Los Angeles.

When it became known that the members of the Legislature were to visit the San Diego Exposition, going by special train, many invitations were received for stops en route. The first stop was made at Hanford in the Fifty-fourth District, represented by Assemblyman Long. There we were met by a band and a large delegation of citizens, and raisins were donated by the enterprising citizens of that district.

The next stop was made at San Bernardino, represented by Assemblyman Johnson. There we were met by the Chamber of Commerce and officials of San Bernardino and Riverside, and driven through San Bernardino, via Highlands to Riverside, represented by Assemblyman Avey. This was a most delightful trip, and the party was so highly entertained at Riverside that the train was delayed forty-five minutes. Refreshments were served at the Mission Inn at Riverside and oranges were distributed by the citizens of Riverside and San Bernardino.

On account of the delay at Riverside we were unable to accept the invitation for an auto drive through Orange County, much to the regret of the party.

At Oceanside, the first stop in San Diego County, in Assemblyman Judson's district, bouquets of carnations were presented to the ladies of the legislative party. Here the train was boarded by the President and Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of San Diego County, who distributed badges which entitled the wearers to admission to the Exposition grounds and the various entertainments provided at San Diego.

The delegation, upon its arrival in San Diego, was met by President G. A. Davidson and a number of Exposition officials, the California National Guard, in two battalions, with Major Herbert R. Fay in command, the Naval Reserves, Lieut. Don Stewart in command, squadron of Cavalry, Capt. George V. H. Mosely, commanding; Exposition band; Colonel Thomas, representing Adjutant General Forbes of the California National Guard; city officials, officials of the Chamber of Commerce. At the Exposition the United States Marine Corps and band, under command of Col. J. H. Pendleton, commanding officer of the Fourth Regiment of Marines, and Maj. W. N. McKelvey, met the delegation and escorted them over the Cabrillo bridge to the Cristobal Cafe. The legislators made the trip to the Exposition in automobiles and a large crowd had congregated all along the line of march to welcome them.

Luncheon was served at Cafe Cristobal by the Panama-California Exposition. President G. A. Davidson, in welcoming the legislators, took occasion to announce that the Exposition had been a success from the day of its opening, that during the first three months of its existence $40,000.00 profit had been made, and the Exposition company is now clearing an average of $1,500.00 daily. This statement was made that the legislators might know that the Exposition was a financial, as well as artistic, success, and to counteract the wild rumors which had been floating about the State for many weeks relative to the closing of the Exposition.

The figures quoted by President Davidson were given after a welcoming speech, in which he asserted that it gave him more pleasure to welcome the legislators than any body of men who had heretofore visited the Exposition. When the fact became known to the legislators that no other visiting delegation, except the Vice President of the United States and his party, had been driven in automobiles to the Exposition grounds at the Laurel Street entrance, and that the escort of the United States Cavalry and United States Marine Corps and band had never been provided, except for the Vice President's party, the legislators understood the real meaning of President Davidson's remark.

Mayor Charles F. O'Neil welcomed the visitors on the part of the city of San Diego, then Assemblyman Grant Conard took charge of the meeting, and in a short speech expressed his satisfaction at having the legislators present to glean at first hand information of the Exposition, he read letters from Governor Hiram Johnson, Lieutenant Governor Eshleman and Speaker Young, all of which told of the regret they felt at not being able to accompany the party.

Senator Phil C. Cohn, of Sacramento, congratulated the Exposition upon its success. Senator Wm. S. Scott, of San Francisco, and Assemblyman James J. Ryan, of San Francisco, and Assemblyman Wm. A. Avey, of Riverside, made brief remarks.

After the luncheon, the visitors were taken on a tour of inspection to the California Building. After coming from the California Building, the legislative party posed for a picture in front of the building erected by the State.

The party then visited the Sacramento Building, the San Joaquin Building, the Kern and Tulare Building, the Alameda and Santa Clara Building; listened to an organ recital by Dr. Humphrey J. Stewart on the Spreckels out-of-door organ. The Seven Southern California Counties Building was then visited, where a reception was tendered by the women of Southern California.

In the evening, the legislative party was again entertained by the Exposition officials at a dinner at Cafe Cristobal, and after the banquet they were taken to the carnival on the Isthmus.

On Sunday morning, the party was tendered a launch ride on San Diego Bay by the Chamber of Commerce, where the municipal pier and harbor improvements were inspected, after the launch ride they were again the guests of the Chamber of Commerce on an automobile ride to Point Loma and other points of interest.

At 2 p.m. Sunday the party left San Diego, arriving at Los Angeles at 5:30 where they were tendered an auto ride by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. This had been arranged by Assemblyman Benton, and here again the party received another demonstration of California hospitality in the form of oranges and cigars.

The legislative party arrived in Sacramento at 10 a.m. Monday, one-half hour ahead of schedule time.

The entire trip was greatly enjoyed by every member of the party, and it will no doubt prove of much benefit to the entire State in cementing the bonds of friendship between the northern and southern portions of California.

Our only regret is that many of the legislators and State officials were unable to make the trip. The following letters from the Governor, Lieutenant Governor and Speaker of the Assembly are herewith included in this report.

April 8, 1915.

Hon. Grant Conard, Sacramento, California.

MY DEAR MR. CONARD: It is with the most profound regret that I find myself unable to visit the San Diego Exposition with the Legislature. The multiplicity of matters pending before me here imperatively require me to remain in Sacramento. Upon the opening day, when I was in San Diego, the beauty of your Exposition so appealed to me that I have been anxious ever since again to visit it. The setting is so exquisite, the outlook so entrancing and generally so beautiful are its surroundings that your Exposition will live long in the memory of those who are fortunate enough to attend it.

I am looking forward with the greatest anticipation to the pleasure, during the year, of again being in San Diego and at the Exposition.

Please convey to the officials my regret at my inability to attend and for me congratulate them upon the beauty and success of their undertaking.

Sincerely,

HIRAM W. JOHNSON, Governor

April 9, 1915

Hon. Grant Conard, San Diego, California.

DEAR MR. CONARD: I regret very much that it is impossible for me to visit your Exposition at this time.

As you know I have unbounded hope for your success and confidence in the ability of your people to succeed. My very best wishes are with yourself and the people of San Diego. At a later date I hope to be able to be with you and enjoy your magnificent Exposition.

Sincerely yours,

JOHN M. ESHLEMAN, Lieutenant Governor.

April 9, 1915

Mr. Grant Conard, San Diego, California.

MY DEAR MR. CONARD: I am very sorry that I am unable to be with you in San Diego at the present time. However, a rush of legislative matters which are pressing for my attention seems to make it impossible for me to take the time off just now, much as I know I would enjoy it.

I am hoping to so shape my affairs that I shall be able to spend a number of days this summer in your wonderful city and at your Exposition of which I hear so many enthusiastic reports.

Permit me to wish you and the other members of the Legislature a most enjoyable and satisfactory trip, as I know you must surely have in the sunny Southland at this beautiful season of the year.

Yours very sincerely,

C C YOUNG

PETITIONS

The following petitions were presented and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Mr Wishard:

To the Members of the State Legislature, Sacramento, California:

We, the undersigned petitioners humbly ask you to enact the present widow and mother's pension bill, which is now being considered before the Legislature. In so doing, we feel we are justified in asking this measure because seventeen of the states have already enacted such measures. Among the last, is the great state of New York, which has just passed the bill. In asking this, we feel sure the entire State of California is abundantly able to provide such a measure.

By Mr. Rigdon:

To the Legislature of the State of California

GENTLEMEN: I have never anticipated that any great effort would be necessary to procure legislation and have you provide ways and means of reaching the masses with agricultural education.

My effort has been directed first to find some practical way of doing the work and getting results; some method by which the indifference of the general public could be transformed into intelligent enthusiasm.

This plan is the outcome of nine years' study of conditions and is practical because it instructs thousands of teachers in the basic principles of agriculture, who will not only impart the acquired knowledge to their pupils, but will also prove the strongest possible missionaries to interest the farmer, who does not at present take sufficient stock in scientific farming methods.

We hear much of the back-to-the-land movement, and the advice of every serious student of economics is, stay on the farm, and all who are familiar with the conditions in city and country concur but if we expect people to seriously consider this advice, we must create a different condition than exists today, or the city youth will remain in the city, and the country boy and girl will continue to come to the bright lights of the cities, attracted, and the efficiency they are capable of destroyed, in most instances, because they are human the same as the balance of us, and susceptible to the environment that surrounds them.

Up to a few years back there has been little occasion to be concerned in California about our soil producing crops; it was new and fertile and we used much of it to the limit, but we are beginning to realize that something must be done if old time big crops are produced, and fertility maintained; telling country children how to accomplish this by actual demonstration is the logical way to make the farm work attractive to the child and at the same time interest the parent.

It is not so much a question of can we afford it. The question is, is it not a good business proposition to get larger crops and to create the best possible social conditions in the country in the shortest possible time?

The cost would not exceed $20,000 a year for the entire State and the work done right. There is not a county in the State that would not realize more than 100 per cent on the entire amount of money invested, and there are hundreds of farming communities that would profit 500 per cent the first year the information was handed out.

It is a big issue, gentlemen, and the present financial depression makes the time exceptionally opportune to give it to the people when they are in a receptive state of mind.

From a moral standpoint, I am a firm believer in recreation and the bright lights, but along with it we must have sufficient education of an interesting and useful character to enable us to keep our equilibrium and have the swing of the pendulum attracted as much toward the serious as toward the frivolous, and be competent to judge for ourselves. This can be done through scientific education. It has not been done in the past, and the handwriting on the wall says, awaken and take notice, a stitch in time saves nine, and a touch of the sciences handed out to the masses will go farther toward correcting some social and financial evils than now confront us than all the forced reform measures yet devised, because it will be voluntary rather than forced.

Both the national and the state government are discussing rural credits. You can see, gentlemen, that the two go hand in hand, education in the basic principles of farming should precede the financing of the industry, and then keep pace by using every possible practical means to keep within reach of every farmer not only book information, but actual demonstration until such time as the masses are far enough advanced in the science to grasp and utilize every point at issue as do individuals in the other professions.

Farming is a profession, with great possibilities and the wise farmer like the wise person in any other profession knows there will be new discoveries to interest people for all time to come.

It is up to you legislators to provide the ways and means by which our people both country and city folk may procure the innovation that will unquestionably create the desire for all there is to know about the subject.

Personal interviews with people in every walk of life, as my petitions indicate, show that the citizens of the State will appreciate and commend your favorable action.

Following are a few names of men prominent in public affairs, who believe in agriculture being taught in the elementary schools.

Chas. C. Moore, James Rolph, Jr., Crocker Estate, Sharon Estate, Frank M. Smith, Balfour Guthrie Company, Geo. N. McNear, Union Oil Company, Fremont Older, every bank in San Francisco, Oakland and Los Angeles, entire department stores of Los Angeles and San Francisco, principal wholesalers and retailers of the three cities, and many others too numerous to mention here.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE—(OUT OF ORDER).

The following message from the Governor was taken up and read:

To the Assembly of the State of California

In accordance with the provisions of section 16, of article IV of the Constitution, I return to you herein Assembly Bill No. 172 without my approval.

My objections to this bill and the reasons for its veto are as follows:

It seeks to establish, for the first time in the State a closed season for bear, and in doing so forbids the use of any steel trap larger than what is generally known and designated as a No. 4 Newhouse, for any purpose. The bill provides, 'Any one found in possession of such a trap, snare or deadfall or pen outside the corporate limits of any city or town of this State at any time of the year or who shall have set or assisted in the setting of such a trap, deadfall, snare or pen for the purpose of trapping and capturing bear, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor,"—a drastic provision, which transmutes the innocent possession of a trap on one side of the boundary line of the town or city into a crime on the other side.

The main difficulty that has confronted me in this bill has been upon its general policy. I am in receipt of a telegram from the Tehama County Cattlemen's Association, the California Wool Growers Association, and the Red Bluff Chamber of Commerce as follows:

RED BLUFF, CALIFORNIA, April 16, 1915

We urge the veto of Ream's bear bill on grounds of its absurdity and as being against the conservation of livestock and a general menace. Preventing use of large traps will cause increase of mountain lions which are most destructive to all kinds of live stock, which industry is too great an asset to permit being injured directly or indirectly for the sake of giving a few hunters sport.

THEODORE SPENCER, President,
Tehama County Cattlemen's Association.
F. A. ELLENWOOD, Secretary,
California Wool Growers' Association.
T. H. RAMSAY, President,
Red Bluff Chamber of Commerce.

In addition the Orland Chamber of Commerce has wired me as follows:

ORLAND, CALIFORNIA, April 13, 1915

The Orland Chamber of Commerce files its protest against the Ream bear bill and asks you to veto it. If you protect the bear you will exterminate the sheep. Which do you consider the more important industry, the sheep or the bear?

G. M. HICKMAN, President.

If the situation is such as indicated, by which a decision must be made as to the more important industry, the sheep or the bear, I am constrained to prefer the sheep. I have before me, too, many individual protests of like character with those quoted, and though Mr. Carl Westerfeld, the able and efficient president of the Fish and Game Commission is sponsor for the bill, and while, also, I believe in the conservation of our wild life, I do not feel in the present instance, in the face of the representations made to me, that the particular bill should become a law.

Again, section 2 of the Act which provides for the closed season between September 30 and April 1, and forbids the taking or killing of any kind of bear during that period, makes two exceptions, first, where the taking or killing should be for public museums and the like, under permits from the State Fish and Game Commission, and secondly, permits the taking and killing of a bear under certain circumstances in these words: "Or where it has been shown that a bear has committed depredations sufficient to warrant his being killed, the State Game Commission may make provision for his death." What depredations are "sufficient to warrant his being killed," are not described, nor who is to determine the character of the depredations nowhere appears. What might seem to be "depredations sufficient to warrant his being killed" to the owner of sheep or cattle might be wholly insufficient to those of us who are not so fortunate, and who shall ultimately decide, or how ultimately it shall be determined that the bear be executed can not be ascertained. The bill merely states that when the bear has committed "depredations sufficient to warrant his being killed, the State Game Commission may make provision for his death." While the sufficiency of the bear's depredations to cause his execution and "provision for his death" may be involved in obscurity and ambiguity, doubtless it is to be assumed that only after a full and fair hearing, with due regard for the constitutional rights of all involved, would judgment be rendered; and then that the Fish and Game Commission in the ultimate execution of the malefactor would act in consonance with the most advanced thought of the day.

HIRAM W. JOHNSON, Governor.

Dated: Sacramento, April 19, 1915.

The question being put; "Shall the bill become a law notwithstanding the veto of the Governor?"

The roll was called, and the veto of the Governor sustained by the following vote:

If, upon such hearing, objections to the acceptance thereof are made and are held by the legislative body to be good, said body must require the contractor to take the necessary steps to remedy any defects in the said work, and in the event of his failure so to do, within such time as the legislative body shall prescribe, or an extension thereof, the said body may relet said portion of the work and charge the contractor the cost thereof, together with all expenses incident to said reletting and doing said work, and shall retain the same out of any moneys due or to become due to him under the contract, and also hold him and his sureties responsible therefor upon his bonds given. And upon such acceptance the work shall be paid for at the contract price in cash or by the delivery of bonds, provided, that not more than seventy-five per cent of the amount due shall be paid to the contractor upon a partial performance of the work, and the remainder shall be retained until the whole work is completed.

"Sec. 22a That when there is a failure to receive any bid for doing the work contemplated under this Act; or when by reason of abandonment of the work by the contractor before completion, and a failure to procure a bidder to complete the work after such abandonment; or when by reason of a change in the condition of the land over or along which the improvement is contemplated, or in process of construction under the provisions hereof, caused by the action of the elements or for any other reason it becomes impossible or impracticable to construct or complete the improvement under the original plans and specifications, the legislative body of the said municipality may by resolution alter such plans or profiles, or cross-sections or specifications, or may adopt new plans, or profiles, or cross-sections or specifications in the manner provided for in the first instance, so as to meet such changed condition or so as to make the completion of the said improvement practicable or possible, in which event the legislative body shall require the city engineer or board of public works, or commissioner of public works to make an estimate of the total expense of said improvement under the said altered or new plans, profiles, cross-sections, and specifications as the case may be, and if the estimated expense of the work to be done under such altered or new plans and specifications shall not exceed the amount raised under the first assessment as provided herein, and after all necessary proceedings had under the provisions of sections 5, 6, 7 and 8 of this Act, and a new or supplemental contract has been entered into with the contractor and bonds given as in this Act provided, to perform said work or improvement as provided for in said new or altered or amended plans, profiles, cross-sections, and specifications, then the work shall proceed under the altered or new plans, profiles, cross-sections, and specifications and shall be paid for out of the funds raised under the first assessment; but if the estimated expense shall exceed the amount raised by the first assessment, a second or additional assessment may be made and recorded in the same manner as provided for in section 19 of this Act nearly as may be; except that no protests shall be entertained upon subject-matter already decided on the first hearing and which has not been in effect changed. In case said plans, profiles, cross-sections, and specifications are altered or changed during the process of construction and the contractor consents thereto and agrees to do the work under the altered or changed plans, profiles, cross-sections, and specifications at the estimated additional assessed price, if such there be, then a supplemental contract shall be entered into for doing said work for said price under said altered or new plans, profiles, cross-sections, and specifications.

"But in the event of the refusal of said contractor to continue said work and complete the same under said altered or changed plans and specifications at the said excess price, his refusal so to do shall be deemed an abandonment of the contract and said legislative body shall proceed to advertise for bids for the completion of said work as provided herein for advertising for bids in the first instance."

"Sec. 9. After adopting said plans and specifications as hereinabove set forth, and before executing a contract for the construction of the improvement contemplated to be done thereunder the board of supervisors shall direct the county surveyor to estimate the total cost of making the proposed improvements and performing such proposed work, which estimate shall include all expenses of every kind incurred or to be incurred, either directly or indirectly, in carrying out said work and improvements, and to assess the benefits thereof to the lands in said district and to assess damages and to do all things proper and necessary to carry out the provisions of this Act. All such charges and expenses of making such estimate and assessing such benefits and damages shall be deemed as expenses of said work or improvements and be a charge only upon the funds devoted to the particular work or improvement, as provided herein, and all claims and charges for such expenses shall be paid as are claims against the county and upon order of the board of supervisors and the claims shall be itemized in the same manner as claims against the county are itemized.

Said surveyor shall proceed to view the lands embraced within the boundaries of such drainage improvement district and may examine witnesses under oath. In estimating the total cost and expenses of doing said work the county surveyor shall be governed by the amount deemed necessary by him to pay the principal and interest on bonds to be issued therefor as herein set forth and the incidental expenses to be incurred as herein authorized. Such estimate shall be based upon the lowest amount bid by the lowest responsible bidder at which a bidder will enter into a contract for doing the work as set forth in the specifications, together with an estimate of the incidental expenses to be incurred.

Said county surveyor, having made his assessment of the benefits and damages shall with all diligence make a written report thereof to the board of supervisors, and shall accompany said report with a plat of the district showing the proposed improvements to the lands assessed, showing the relative location of each block, lot or portion of lot, or other piece of land, and its dimensions so far as he can reasonably ascertain the same. Each block and lot, or portion of lot, or other parcel or parcels of land affected or assessed shall be designated and described in said plat by an appropriate number and a reference to it by such descriptive number shall be sufficient description of it in all respects. When the report and plat are approved by the board of supervisors, a copy of said plat, appropriately designated and certified by the clerk of said board as a correct copy of the plat on file in his office shall be by the clerk of said board recorded in the office of the recorder of the county. Said report of said county surveyor shall also contain the names of the persons owning lands over which a right of way for said improvement has been obtained, as well as the name of any lessee, incumbrancer, or other person having an interest in said land over which a right of way has been obtained, together with the particulars of their interest therein, and together with a waiver of any interest they may have had in said land so obtained for said right of way.

Errors in the designation of the owner or owners of any land or improvement or any interest therein, or of the particulars of their interest, shall not affect the validity of the assessment.

The report of such county surveyor and the affidavit accompanying it shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors, and said board shall thereupon fix a time for the hearing thereof, and thereupon the clerk of said board shall give notice of said hearing by publication for at least three weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published and circulated in the said district, if such there be, or if there is no such newspaper, then in some newspaper of general circulation published within the county in which said district is situated, said newspaper to be designated by said board. Such notice shall be substantially in the following form:

NOTICE OF THE FILING OF THE COUNTY SURVEYOR'S REPORT OF DRAINAGE IMPROVEMENT NO. _____ (designating the district by an appropriate number) OF THE COUNTY OF _____

Notice is hereby given that the county surveyor of the county of _____ did on the _____ day of _____, 191____ file his report of the assessment of benefits in Drainage District Improvement No. _____ (designating the district by an appropriate number), with the clerk of the board of supervisors of said county, which said report is now on file in the office of the said board of supervisors in the city of _____, said county, and that said report will be heard by said board at its office on the _____ day of _____, 19____ at the hour of _____m. Said report and the survey map, plans and specifications of the improvements mentioned therein are hereby referred to for further particulars.

All persons interested are hereby required to show cause, if any they have, at the time fixed for said hearing why such report should not be adopted and confirmed by said board of supervisors, and to show cause, if any they have, at the time fixed for said hearing, why the several lands or parcels of land therein referred to should not be assessed for said improvement as set forth in said report. All objections shall be in writing, signed by the person objecting, and filed with the clerk of said board at least one day prior to the time fixed for the hearing of said report.

Signed, _____,
Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, _____ County.

Any person interested may file with the clerk of said board at least one day before the time fixed for the hearing, a written objection to said report, or to any part thereof, to the assessment as a whole or to the assessments on the several parcels of land, as set forth in said report. At the time fixed for such hearing or at any time to which the hearing may be adjourned, the board of supervisors shall hear all objections so filed, and pass upon the same, and shall proceed to pass upon said report and the assessments therein contained, and may confirm, correct or modify the same, or may order the county surveyor to make a new assessment, report and plat which shall be filed, heard and acted upon in the same manner, and on like notice as in the case of an original report. The action of the board upon the report and objections thereto shall be final and conclusive as to all matters which they might have remedied or avoided, and no assessment shall be set aside except upon such hearing for any error, defect, or informality therein, or in the proceedings prior thereto, where the district has been legally formed and notice of the hearing of the report has been given as herein prescribed.

After said report has been adopted as provided in the preceding section, the board of supervisors shall by order entered upon its minutes provide for the amount of money to be raised by assessment each year. When the board has determined the sum to be assessed for each year, and the number of years that such assessment shall continue, (which said number of years shall correspond to the number of years within which the aggregate number of bonds to be issued under this Act shall be paid and discharged), said board shall cause the clerk of said board to forward to the tax collector of the county in which such district is situated a certified copy of the report, assessment, and plat, as adopted and confirmed by said board of supervisors, together with a certified copy of the order of said board fixing the sum to be raised by such assessment, each year, and the number of years such assessment shall continue, and from and after the filing of such certified copy the charges assessed upon each piece of land or improvements thereon for the first year shall become due and payable immediately, and shall constitute a lien thereon, and thereafter the assessments for the succeeding year shall become due and payable on the first day of October of each year, and shall upon becoming due and payable constitute a lien upon the land or improvements upon which it is assessed.

All moneys paid upon such assessment, either by property owners or by the county or municipality affected, shall be placed in the county treasury of the county in which such drainage district was organized to the credit of a special fund to be known as Drainage District Improvement Fund No. _____, and shall be used only to retire the bonds issued to pay the expense and cost of constructing the improvement described in survey, maps, plans and specifications adopted by the board of supervisors, and to pay other incidental expenses hereinabove enumerated; provided however, that any surplus remaining after the construction thereof shall be paid into the current expense or maintenance fund. Payment from such funds shall be made upon demands prepared, presented, allowed and audited in the same manner as demands upon the funds of the county. Upon the filing of such certified copy of such report, assessment plat and order with the tax collector of the county, as hereinbefore prescribed, the county tax collector shall give notice by a ten days' publication in a newspaper printed in the county that the assessment list of Drainage Improvement District No. _____ has been filed in his office with the date of such filing. That the amounts entered thereon are due and payable, and that if not paid on or before the first Monday in October next ensuing the same will become delinquent and will be collected as are delinquent taxes. He shall note on said assessment list all assessments paid, giving receipts as in the payment of taxes, and shall pay all money collected into the county treasury at the same time and in the same manner as money collected for taxes paid into said treasury.

All subsequent collection of assessments shall be made in the same manner above set forth and the tax collector shall annually after the first year, publish a like notice containing all the statements required to be made, as hereinbefore in this section set forth, and the same proceedings shall be had as upon the collection of the first assessment.

When said assessments have become delinquent the tax collector of such county shall proceed to collect such delinquent assessments with five per cent. added thereon, and pay the same, including the five per cent. so collected, over to the county treasurer in the same manner as state and county taxes are collected and paid over and for the purpose of collecting such assessments and delinquent assessments all of the provisions of chapter 7, title 9, part III of the Political Code not in conflict with any of the provisions of this Act are hereby made applicable to the collection of assessments and delinquent assessments in such drainage districts.

The board of supervisors shall, at the time of making the levy of taxes for county purposes for each year, levy a tax upon the real estate in each drainage district organized under this Act in their county sufficient in amount to raise the amount of money which will be needed for the current year for maintaining and repairing the works and improvements for said district. Said tax, when levied, shall be entered upon the assessment roll and collected in the same manner as state and county taxes. When the same is collected it shall be placed in the treasury of the county to the credit of the current expense fund of said district and shall be used only for the purpose for which it was raised. Payments shall be made from said fund in the same manner as from the improvement fund of the district.

"SECTION 1. Whenever the board of supervisors of any county in this State deem it proper for the purpose of protecting property from damage, to widen, deepen, change, straighten or otherwise improve the channel of any unnavigable stream, water course, canyon, or wash or to drain any swale within the county, or to construct channels therefor, in whole or in part, or to erect levees, gates or dikes upon or along the banks thereof, or otherwise to prevent the same from overflow, or to drain the same, or to establish and construct settling basins for the purpose of spreading, conserving, storing or retaining storm or snow water, or causing such water to percolate, or to save or conserve any storm water or snow water for beneficial and useful purposes in any manner whatsoever, or to construct new channels therefor or to do any one or more or all of said things, said board, may, in its discretion, upon petition of ten land owners, setting forth the general character of the improvements desired by them and the boundaries of the district to be benefited by such proposed improvement, and that their land is within the same, together with an estimate of the costs of such improvement, and together with a request that bonds be issued to pay the cost and expense of such proposed improvement, and asking for the formation of a district under this Act, pass a resolution declaring its intention to form a protection district under this Act. Such petition must be accompanied by a map showing the exterior boundaries of the district with relation to the territory immediately contiguous thereto, and a tentative plan showing the course and termini of the improvements contemplated, and before being presented to and filed with the board of supervisors, shall, together with said estimate, plans and specifications, be duly presented to and approved by the board of flood control of the county, where there is such a board legally established, and where there is no such board legally established, shall be presented to and approved by the county surveyor of such county, or other proper person or persons designated by said board to pass upon the same. There shall also be filed by said petitioners with said petition a good and sufficient bond in an amount to be fixed by the board of supervisors, and to be approved by them, conditioned that the sureties will, if required, pay the costs incident to the preliminary proceedings of organization, in case the proposed district is not formed.

"Whenever such unnavigable streams or water courses, canyons, washes or swales, or the portion thereof deemed proper or necessary to be drained improved or rectified by widening, deepening or straightening such course, canyon, wash or to drain any swale or by constructing channels, or by erecting levees or dikes upon the banks of any water course or wash, extends into or runs through any two or more counties in this State, the petition shall be presented to the board of supervisors of the county in which the greatest portion of lands within the proposed district are situated, which petition shall set forth and particularly describe the proposed boundaries of such district and the other matters required by section 1 of this Act and which shall be approved by resolution passed by the board of supervisors of each county except the one with whose board of supervisors said petition shall be filed, and said boards so approving shall be deemed to have thereby waived their jurisdiction in the matter, and shall be deemed to petition for a district to be organized under said Act; and when the board of supervisors of any one of said counties has acquired jurisdiction as provided herein and any county having acquired jurisdiction may collect by law, from the county or counties so notified, its proportion of the costs and expenses of initiating the prosecuting said proceedings for said improvement, which shall not exceed in the case of any county one-quarter of the total cost thereof; provided, said amount shall not exceed in any one case for any one county the sum of twenty-five hundred dollars. Nothing herein shall authorize the alteration of the boundary lines of any county. Thereafter all costs of every nature that may be incurred or made necessary in the keeping up or preservation of any work or improvement done under the provisions of this section shall be borne by the county or counties affected by such work or improvement, and the lands within said district in the proportion provided herein. Whenever a portion of such unnavigable stream or water course passes through or forms the boundary line of any municipal corporation, the territory within such municipality, including the streets thereof, affected or benefited by such work or improvement may be included in proceedings instituted for the creation of said protection district, and thereupon, all such territory including the streets of such municipality, shall be subject to the provisions of this Act

"Upon such petition having been filed with and said bond approved by, said board of supervisors, it may order the board of flood control in counties where there is such a board legally established, and in counties where there is no such board, the county surveyor, to make a survey relative to the proposed improvement complying as nearly as may be with the petition and to make plans and specifications for said proposed work and to estimate the total cost of making the proposed improvement and performing the proposed work, which estimate shall include all expenses of every kind incurred, or to be incurred, directly or indirectly, in carrying out said work or improvements, and shall at the earliest possible date file said plans and specifications and estimate with said board of supervisors, whereupon said board of supervisors may adopt such surveys, maps, plans and specifications, as filed, or as filed and modified as hereinafter provided, and thereafter all such improvements, if made, shall be made in accordance with the surveys, maps, plans and specifications so adopted except as they may be modified as hereinafter provided and if modified, then as modified and adopted: or may wholly reject said surveys, maps, plans and specifications, in which case the expenses already incurred in behalf of the proposed district shall be a county charge, provided the said board of supervisors determine to waive the rights of said county under the undertaking heretofore mentioned

"Sec. 2. If after the filing of the petition herein specified it shall be found necessary to condemn, purchase or obtain any right of way or easement before proceeding further hereunder, and before publishing notice of hearing of resolution of intention as hereinafter provided, said board of flood control, or county surveyor, as the case may be, shall, when directed by the board of supervisors so to do, proceed to view the lands embraced within the boundaries of such protection district, and may examine witnesses under oath, to be administered by any one of them. Having viewed the land to be taken, and the improvements affected, and considered the testimony presented, he or they shall proceed with all diligence to estimate or appraise the value of the land and damages to improvements and property affected, and also the estimated amount of the costs of the proposed work or improvement and the expenses incident thereto and having determined the same he or they shall, within sixty days, make and file with the board of supervisors a report in duplicate of his or their findings which shall contain the names of the persons owning land and having an interest therein necessary to be taken for such work or improvement, the names of land owners and parties in interest who have deeded or consent to deed a right of way for such contemplated improvement and their written consent thereto, the names of land owners and parties in interest who do not so consent and the amount claimed by each for the right of way necessary to be obtained from them, together with the amount claimed by them as damages.

"Sec. 3. The board of supervisors of such county shall also have power in the name of the county, to condemn land, or any right, title or interest therein, for any of the purposes herein contemplated, and for such purposes all the provisions of part III, title VII, of the Code of Civil Procedure, or of any statute of this State relative to the condemnation of property for storm drain purposes by counties of this State, are hereby made applicable to the exercise of the right of eminent domain and condemnation for such purposes, provided, where any right of way, easement or the property of any other protection district is taken over by the board of supervisors under this Act, by condemnation or otherwise, the money to be paid therefor to said protection district may be prorated to owners of land in said protection district in proportion to the amounts levied against their respective parcels of land in the district and paid into the fund of said district by the owners thereof, and the board of supervisors when acting as the governing body of such district may satisfy any interlocutory judgment obtained in proceedings of condemnation against said protection districts.

"Sec. 4. Before ordering any work to be done under this Act, the board of supervisors shall pass a resolution of intention so to do. Such resolution may, in form, and shall, in substance, be (filling all blanks) as indicated following, to wit

(Adding if the fact so be)

The principal and interest of the bonds representing the cost of the work to be done under the provisions of this Act, shall be payable in gold coin of the United States of America, and the board of supervisors is authorized to determine the time, not to exceed twenty years, in which bonds issued to represent the cost of the work shall be paid, and to determine the rate, not to exceed seven per cent. per annum of the interest to be paid thereon which interest shall be payable semi-annually, and to make such bonds in all respects as indicated by the form therefor, in this Act hereafter provided.

"SEC 5. Such resolution of intention shall be filed, and be published by at least two insertions in the newspaper therein designated, which shall be a newspaper of general circulation published and circulated in the county, or, if there be no such newspaper, then in any newspaper designated by said board of supervisors in such resolution, and such publication shall be deemed to be a sufficient notice to all interested parties. If publication in the newspaper designated in the resolution of intention becomes impossible for the reason that such newspaper has ceased to be published or for any like reason, which renders publication therein impossible, the board of supervisors may, by a resolution to be entered in its minutes, and stating the facts, designate another newspaper for each required publication as occasion therefor arises. The clerk of the board of supervisors shall send a copy of said resolution of intention by mail, postage prepaid, to each owner of land in the proposed district whose name appears as such on the last completed assessment roll of the county or counties in which said land lies, addressed to such owner at his address given on such assessment roll, or if no address is so given, then to his last known address, or if it be not known, then at the county seat of the county in which his land lies. Said clerk shall make and file in his office an affidavit of such mailing, showing the names and addresses of the persons to whom such notices were sent, which shall be prima facie evidence that said notices were mailed as herein required. Failure of the clerk to mail said notices as herein required shall not invalidate subsequent proceedings.

"The determination of the board of supervisors to proceed with such hearing, whether evidenced by an express declaration or by its proceeding to make other determinations at such hearing shall be conclusive evidence, of the existence of all the facts upon which the power of the board to proceed depends, except such as are required to appear on the record in the proceeding, and except, also, in so far as such presumption is rebutted by the record in the proceeding.

"SEC 6 At or before the hour in the resolution of intention specified for ordering the work and the hearing of the matter any owner of land within the boundaries of the proposed district as set forth in said resolution, may, severally or with other such owners, file with the clerk of the board of supervisors written objections to the formation of such proposed district, to the ordering of the work as an entirety, to some feature or features of the contemplated work, or to the boundaries of the district as described in the resolution of intention. Whereupon the clerk of said board of supervisors shall endorse on such objections the date and hour of their filing and shall at the time fixed for the hearing place such objections filed with him before said board of supervisors.

"If upon such hearing it appears that a majority of owners of land within the district, as set forth in the resolution of intention, have so in writing made objection to the formation of the proposed district or to entirety of the work described in the resolution of intention and to the ordering of the same, the board of supervisors shall, by a resolution to be entered in its minutes, so find; and thereupon such board shall have no power to proceed further under said resolution of intention or to pass any resolution of intention for doing the same work, during a period of one year next after the time of such finding; and the accrued cost of the proceeding shall be a charge upon the county. But if the fact is that a majority of owners of land lying within the district, as set forth in said resolution of intention, have not in writing made objection going to the formation of the district or to the ordering of the work, as an entirety, the board of supervisors shall so find, and thereupon shall proceed with the hearing, but such finding need not then be in writing, and may, for the purpose of proceeding with the hearing, be a mere announcement of the board, to be noted in the minutes by the clerk.

"SEC. 7. If upon such hearing said board finds that a majority of owners of land within the district have not, in writing, made objection to the formation of the district or to the entirety of work described in the resolution of intention and to the ordering of the same, but find that objections have been filed to some feature or features of the work so contemplated or to the boundaries of the district, said board may, in its discretion, overrule or sustain, in whole or in part, any or all of such objections filed to some feature or features of the proposed work or to the boundaries thereof, and may change or alter the boundaries of such proposed district to conform to the needs of the district and may order a survey thereof to establish new boundaries and order new plans, specifications and estimates to be submitted to it as before, provided, that it shall include in said boundaries only such land as will, in its judgment, be benefited by the proposed work or improvements; and provided, further, that if it is deemed proper to include therein any territory not included in the boundaries mentioned in the resolution of intention, it shall first cause notice of its intention so to do to be published and mailed to land owners in such additional territory, as in case of the original notice, and shall, for that purpose, adjourn the hearing to some time and place to be stated in such new notice, and shall hear and pass upon any objections made by such owners as in case of other land owners in the proposed district.

"At the expiration of the time within which protests may be filed, if none be filed, or if protests be filed and, after hearing, be denied, or at the expiration of the time within which objections to the modification of the boundaries of the district, in case such modification be proposed, may be filed, if none be filed, or if such objections be filed and, after hearing, be overruled, as above provided, then said board shall be deemed to have acquired jurisdiction to further proceed in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

"The hearing may, however, be continued from time to time by the board of supervisors by an order to be entered in the minutes of the board.

"Owners of land within the meaning of this section are those and those only, who appear to be such upon the records in the recorder's office of the county in which the district is situated, on the day before the day for said hearing, and an executor or administrator shall be deemed representative of his decedent, and a trustee of an express trust in land other than as security for the payment of money, of the land held in such trust, and a trustee in bankruptcy, of the bankruptcy.

"SEC. 8. Having acquired jurisdiction the board of supervisors shall in conclusion of the aforementioned hearing and as a sufficient determination of all questions arising thereat, by resolution or resolutions to be entered upon its minutes, declare its finding that the district shall be formed, and may declare it formed and may determine the boundaries of the district, and the character of the work to be done, and may include in said findings any other determination of said board herein contemplated. The various items of said work need however not be determinative. If no changes be made in the boundaries of the district as the same are set forth in the resolution of intention it shall be sufficient to state that the boundaries of the district are those set forth in the resolution of intention, but if any change of such boundaries is made, the boundaries of the district as finally determined, shall be fully set forth, showing the changes determined upon.

"If no change is made as to the character of the work to be done, as set forth in the specifications on file, it shall be sufficient to state that character of the work as finally determined shall be as set forth in such specifications. In either case, the boundaries of the district so determined shall be the boundaries of the district for all purposes of the proceeding and until any bonds issued for the cost of the work shall have been fully paid and discharged, and the specifications so adopted shall be the specifications for the work to be done in the district for all the purposes of the proceeding; provided, however, that the boundaries of the district, as the same are set forth in the resolution of intention, shall not, except in the manner otherwise provided herein, be so changed as to include within the district any territory not within the boundaries set forth in said resolution, nor so that the place or locality of any work described in such resolution of intention shall be excluded from the boundaries of the district as so finally determined.

"Sec. 9. Before ordering any work to be done and at the conclusion of said hearing of said resolution of intention, the board shall determine whether it will call an election on the matter of incurring a bonded indebtedness on said district as hereinafter set forth.

"If in the discretion of the board of supervisors of any county, in which a district is formed under this Act it shall be found advisable before ordering any work to be done to call an election within said district at which to submit to the qualified electors thereof the proposition whether a bonded indebtedness shall be incurred in an amount not to exceed the estimated amount to cover the cost and expenses of the improvement as set forth in the plans and specifications on file with said board, said amount to be raised on the taxable property within said district, for the construction of works, as herein contemplated, said board of supervisors may submit at a general election, or may call a special election therefor in such district and submit to the electors thereof, the question whether a bonded indebtedness shall be incurred for an amount, not greater than said estimated total cost of said improvement on file with said board. If it is so determined to call such election to be held in such district, said board shall thereupon give notice of such election by one publication in a newspaper of general circulation within the county and by posting notices thereof at three public places within the district, and shall submit to the electors of said district the question whether such a bonded indebtedness shall be so incurred.

"Such notice must specify the time and place or places of holding the election, the estimated amount for which it is intended to issue bonds, and the purposes for which it is to be used, including brief description of the proposed work, and referring to the maps, plans and estimates of said proposed work on file with the clerk of the board of supervisors. For the purposes of this election, the board of supervisors may amalgamate by order two or more precincts into one in the boundaries of said district, and appoint one inspector, one judge and one clerk for each, to conduct the same, and said election must be held in all respects, as near as practicable, in conformity with the election laws of this State. At such election the ballot shall contain the words 'For incurring $----- bonded indebtedness. Yes,' or, 'For incurring $----- bonded indebtedness. No,' together with a square at the right of the words 'For incurring $----- bonded indebtedness. Yes,' and at the right of the words 'For incurring $----- bonded indebtedness. No,' in which the voter may stamp his ballot to indicate his choice. But no particular form of ballot other than above set forth need be used, nor shall any informality in conducting said election invalidate the same, if the election shall have been otherwise fairly conducted.

"The officers of the election must certify the results of the election to the board of supervisors, giving the whole number of votes cast, the number for, and the number against incurring the bonded indebtedness. If a majority of votes cast are in favor of the same, the board of supervisors must enter a statement to that effect upon its minutes. After such entry the board of supervisors shall be authorized and empowered to issue said bonds of the district (serially if deemed expedient) by said board in an amount not to exceed the amount provided for in such proceedings, payable out of the funds of the district, and that the moneys shall be raised by taxation upon the property of the district for the redemption of said bonds and the payment of interest thereon as prescribed in the Political Code of the State of California for the payment of the principal or interest on public school bonds.

"If said board of supervisors determine to call said election and do call said election and if at such an election a majority of the votes cast are in favor of incurring such bonded indebtedness, it shall proceed as hereinafter set forth, if the majority of votes cast are against incurring such bonded indebtedness no further proceedings shall be had hereunder for the period of one year after said election. If no election is called, said board of supervisors shall proceed herein as if section 9 hereof were omitted from this Act.

"Sec. 10. Having acquired the jurisdiction so to do, the board of supervisors shall, by resolution, order the work to be done, and shall fix a time for receiving proposals or bids for doing the work, and direct the clerk to give notice accordingly, inviting sealed proposals or bids. Such notice shall include a statement that the work is to be done 'under the provisions of the Protection District Act of 1915,' and according to the plans and specifications on file therefor, except in so far as the work to be done specified therein shall have been fixed otherwise by the board of supervisors in conclusion of the hearing in said Act provided; and that to said Act, to the resolution of intention and to all proceedings had thereunder the attention of bidders is thereby directed, and by this reference made part of said notice.

"The notice inviting sealed proposals or bids shall be published by at least two insertions in the newspaper designated in the resolution of intention, and (not necessarily simultaneously) a copy or copies of the same be posted and kept posted for five days, at or near the chamber door of the board of supervisors. All proposals or bids shall be accompanied by a check, payable to the order of the presiding officer of the board of supervisors, certified by a responsible bank, for an amount not less than ten per cent of the aggregate of the proposal or bid, or by a bond for said amount running to the presiding officer of the board of supervisors, signed by the bidder, with two sureties qualifying each in said amount over and above all statutory exemptions before an officer competent to administer an oath.

"Said proposals or bids shall be delivered to the clerk of said board, and said board shall, in open session, examine and declare the same, but no proposal or bid shall be considered unless accompanied by said check or such bond in terms satisfactory to the board. The board may reject any and all proposals or bids should it deem this for the public good, and shall reject all proposals or bids other than the lowest regular proposal or bid of any responsible bidder, and must award the contract for said work to the lowest responsible bidder at the price named in his bid.

"A notice of such award, attested by the clerk of the board of supervisors shall be published and posted for five days in the same manner as hereinbefore provided with respect to the notice inviting proposals or bids.

"The check or bonds accompanying such accepted proposals or bids shall be kept by the clerk of said board until the contract for doing said work, as hereinafter provided, has been entered into. If said bidder fails, neglects or refuses to enter into the contract for said work, as hereinafter provided, then the certified check accompanying his bid, and the amount therein mentioned shall be declared forfeited to the county, and may be collected by it and paid into said protection district fund, and any bond forfeited may be prosecuted, and the amount thereof collected and paid into said fund.

"Before being entitled to a contract the bidder to whom the award thereof has been made must advance and pay to the clerk of the board of supervisors, for payment by him the costs and expenses of publishing and posting resolutions, notices and orders required, under this Act to be made, which have been made, given, posted or published in the proceeding.

"SEC. 11. If for fifteen days after being awarded the contract, the bidder to whom the contract was awarded fails, neglects or refuses to enter into the contract, or if all bids have been rejected, the board of supervisors may direct the clerk of the board to give notice as in the first instance, inviting sealed proposals or bids, and thereupon it shall invite and entertain bids, make any award, and conduct other proceedings as in the first instance, and as in the case of the default of a first awardee, so also, in that of a second.

"SEC. 12. The presiding officer of the board of supervisors is hereby authorized, in the name of the county to execute the contract with the awardee of the same, and to receive and approve all bonds by this Act required on the part of such awardee, and shall, by the terms of said contract, fix the time for the beginning of the work, which shall not be more than twenty days from the date thereof, and the contract shall provide that the work be prosecuted with diligence until completed, and a time for such completion shall be in the contract fixed, but such time of completion may be extended from time to time by the board of supervisors, in its discretion, and by resolution, which shall be entered by the clerk in the minutes of said board, a copy of which shall be by said clerk endorsed upon or annexed to the contract.

"Said contract shall undertake on behalf of the county that the board of supervisors will, upon the fulfillment and performance of the contract on the part of the contractor, and under the provisions of the 'Protection District Act of 1915,' take all steps, in or by said Act authorized to be taken, to effect the issuing by the county treasurer of the bonds in said Act authorized to be issued, and provide a fund for the payment of the same, as in or by said Act prescribed; and it shall be in such contract stated that in no case shall the county be liable under the contract, nor any officer thereof be thereunder holden except for the discharge of official duty under the law.

"SEC. 13. As soon as may be done in good faith, there shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors a declaration by the contractor that the work has been completed according to the contract, together with an itemized statement of all the incidental costs and expenses of the work and the proceeding, inclusive of the estimated cost of publishing the notice of final hearing hereinafter mentioned.

"The aggregate of such items shall be therein stated, and, also, the amount due as of the contract price; and also the gross sum for a bond issue representing the entire amount thereof, as claimed by the contractor. The said declaration and statements shall be signed and verified by the superintendent of work, and by the contractor or some person cognizant of the facts, signing on behalf of the contractor, and stating why he, instead of the contractor, so signs and verifies. Either signer may except from his signature and verification any amount or item to which he does not assent.

"The presiding officer of the board of supervisors is hereby authorized to fix a time and give a notice of a hearing for the purpose of determining whether the work shall be accepted as being completed according to the contract, and for determining the aggregate amounts for which bonds shall be issued representing the total cost of the work, and the amount of the incidental costs and expenses of the work, and the proceedings which is to be charged to and paid by the contractor.

"Such hearing shall be known as the final hearing. The notice of such hearing may, in form, and shall, in substance be (filling the blanks) as follows:

"And as provided aforesaid for a second continuance so of any other or further continuance.

"Objections to any item of incidental costs and expenses, shall pend and be heard on said day, or at any continued hearing had, as in this section aforesaid provided.

"Every continuance of said hearing for the purpose of enabling the contractor to complete his contract or the work shall continue or revive such powers of the Board of Supervisors had, under the provisions of this Act, in the proceeding, at the time of the filing of the contractor's declaration that the work was completed, as provided aforesaid, and also operate to extend the time for the completion of said contract in such manner that its completion within the time to which the hearing is continued, shall be as valid a performance of such contract as if completed at the time of filing such declaration or statement.

"SEC 14. Whenever upon the hearing in section twelve aforesaid provided, whether at the first or any continued hearing, it shall be the opinion of the board of supervisors that the work has been completed and done according to the contract, said board shall by a resolution, to be entered upon its minutes, so declare, and that the work is accepted, and stating the aggregate amount for which bonds shall be issued, and stating the amount of the incidental costs and expenses of the work and the proceeding which are charged against and to be paid by the contractor.

"SEC 15. Upon the expiration of thirty days from the making of the final order mentioned in section 14 of this Act, the clerk of the board of supervisors shall transmit to the county treasurer of the county, an attested copy of the final order mentioned in section 14 of this Act, and upon receipt of the same, the county treasurer shall proceed to issue bonds to the amount in the aggregate of the principal as the same is stated in the attested copy of said final order. A bond may be issued in any amount, of not less a denomination than one hundred dollars or of not greater denomination than one thousand dollars, provided, that the aggregate of the bond or bonds made payable in any one year is the one proper part of the whole principal of the bond issue, as specified in such attested copy of said final order, and so that the interest thereon be made payable on the second days of January and July. The said bonds may, in form, and shall, in substance, be as indicated following, to wit.

PROTECTION DISTRICT IMPROVEMENT BOND.

Protection District Improvement No. _____ County of _____ State of California.

$ _____ No. _____
Under and by virtue of an Act of the Legislature of the State of California known as the Protection District Act of 1915, (here may be inserted any further designation of the Act desired) the county of _____ State of California, will pay to the bearer, out of the fund hereinafter designated, at the office of the treasurer of said county, on the _____ day of _____, 19____, the sum of _____ dollars, in gold coin of the United States of America, with interest thereon, in like gold coin, at the rate of _____ per cent per annum, payable semi-annually on the _____ day of _____ and will pay the sum of $ _____ on the _____ day of _____ of each year from the date hereof, upon presentation and surrender, as they respectively become due, of the proper interest coupons hereto attached.

This bond is issued under and in conformity to the provisions of the above mentioned 'Protection District Improvement Act of 1915' and the amendments thereof, and is one of a series of bonds of like date and effect, numbered from 1 to _____ consecutively, amounting in the aggregate to _____ dollars, issued in behalf of Protection Improvement District No. _____ of said county, which constitute the only indebtedness of said district. It is hereby certified, recited, and declared that all proceedings, acts and things required by law precedent to or in the issuance of this bond have been regularly had, done, and performed, and this bond is by law made conclusive evidence thereof.

This bond is payable out of Protection District Improvement Fund No. _____ exclusively, as the same appears on the books of the treasurer of said county, and neither said county nor any officer thereof shall be holden for its payment otherwise; but in accordance with said Act the board of supervisors of said county will annually, at the time of levying State and county taxes levy upon all the land in said Protection Improvement District a special assessment tax in an amount clearly sufficient to pay the principal and interest of said bonds as the same shall become payable.

In witness whereof, Said county has caused this bond to be signed by the chairman of its board of supervisors and countersigned by its treasurer and the seal of said board to be hereto affixed, and said interest coupons to be signed by the said treasurer, this ----- day of ----- 19-----

Chairman of the Board of Supervisors of the county of -----

(Seal of Board of Supervisors)

Countersigned -

Treasurer of the County of -----

"Said bonds shall be signed by the chairman of the board of supervisors and countersigned by the treasurer of the county, and shall have the seal of said board of supervisors thereto affixed, and when so signed shall be binding according to the term thereof as prescribed in said form. The interest coupons attached to said bonds shall be in such form as the said treasurer may determine, subject to the provisions of this Act and the determinations made by the board of supervisors and their signature by said treasurer alone, which may be either written or lithographed facsimiles, shall be sufficient. Said bonds shall be delivered by the said treasurer to said contractor or to his order, assignee, or lawful representative.

"The board of supervisors is hereby vested with power to determine the number of years, not to exceed twenty, within which the aggregate principal of bonds to be issued under this Act shall be paid and discharged, and to fix the rate of interest not to exceed seven per cent. per annum to be paid thereon, and it shall be a sufficient determination and fixing of the same to set forth in the resolution of intention that bonds will issue for the work in any terms that will fairly indicate such time and such rate and the fractional part of the principal to be paid each year. Such payment shall be the same for each of the years covered by the bond issue. A special fund to be named 'Protection District Improvement Fund No. -----' (the number to be that of the district) for the discharge and payment of such bonds and the interest thereon shall be constituted as follows, to wit: There shall each year, at the time of the levy of the general levy of state and county taxes, be levied against and upon all the land within said Protection District No. ----- (being the district established and as bounded in the order ordering the work to be done) a special assessment tax in an amount clearly sufficient together with any moneys which are or may be in said fund, to pay all the principal which has or will become due and all interest which has or will become payable, on said bonds, before the proceeds of another tax levy at the time of the general tax levy for State and county purposes can be made available for the payment of such bonds.

"The board of supervisors shall, from the general road funds of the county transfer to said 'Protection District Fund No. -----' such amount as, in the judgment of said board shall be commensurate with the benefits accruing to the county highways within said district if any.

"In any event it shall be the duty of the board of supervisors to levy a sufficient special assessment tax upon all the land within said Protection District No. ----- to maintain such 'Protection District Fund No. -----' sufficient to pay the principal and interest of said bonds as the same shall become payable. And the board of supervisors is hereby vested with power to do all and singular the things which in this section aforesaid it is declared shall be done.

"Sec. 16. Whenever any of said bonds or any interest thereon shall become due and there shall not be sufficient money in said Protection District Improvement fund to pay the same, the board of supervisors may, pending the levy and collection of a tax therefor, order the amount of money necessary to pay the bonds or interest so falling due, to be transferred from the general fund to said Protection District Improvement fund, and the amount of money so transferred shall be deemed a loan to said Protection District Improvement fund, and shall be repaid to the general fund from the first money coming into said Protection District Improvement fund thereafter.

"Sec. 17. All of the costs and expense of the proceeding, inclusive especially of the compensation of the person appointed to furnish the specifications of the superintendent of work, of the engineer of work and his assistants, of the cost of all publications under this Act required to be made, shall be chargeable to and paid by the contractor, and they shall have been paid before delivery of the bonds shall be made by the county treasurer, provided, however, that the county treasurer may make delivery of such bonds if there be deposited with him, subject to the order of the board of supervisors, money to the amount of the costs and expenses chargeable to the contractor as the same is stated in the attested order of the board of supervisors, provided for in this Act. The contractor and all persons claiming under him any interest in said bonds, whether of ownership, lien or otherwise, shall be deemed to have notice of the contents of this section.

"Sec. 18. All papers in a proceeding under this Act (save such as thereunder may be returnable to owners) shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors, and by him kept together in a package appropriately labeled. Whenever in this Act the term 'clerk of the board of supervisors' is employed, it shall be deemed to include one who is, ex officio, such, and it shall be immaterial that he designate himself as county clerk where the county clerk is ex officio clerk of the board of supervisors, nor shall it be material that his Act be by deputy. The word board refers to the board of supervisors governing the district.

"SEC. 19. All of the provisions of chapter VII, title IX, part III, of the Political Code not in conflict with any of the provisions of this Act are hereby made applicable to the collection of assessments and delinquent assessments in such protection districts.

"SEC. 20. The board of supervisors shall, at the time of making the levy of taxes for county purposes for each year, levy an assessment tax upon the real property in each protection district in their county organized under this Act sufficient in amount to raise the amount of money which will be needed for the current year for extending, maintaining and repairing the works and improvements of said district. Said assessment tax, when levied, shall be entered upon the assessment roll of the county and collected in the same manner as state and county taxes. When the same is collected, it shall be placed in the treasury of the county to the credit of the protection district maintenance fund of said district, and shall be used only to pay the expense and cost of maintaining, repairing and extending the improvements described in the survey, maps, plans and specifications adopted by the board of supervisors. Payments from said fund shall be made upon demands prepared presented, allowed and audited in the manner provided by law.

"SEC. 21. Whenever the clerk of the board of supervisors or other officer is, by this Act, empowered to serve any notice by mailing, a certificate of such mailing, in conformity to the provisions of this Act and filed with the records of such supervisors, shall be sufficient proof of such service.

"SEC. 22. If any right of way, attempted to be acquired by virtue of this Act, shall be found to be defective from any cause, the board of supervisors may again institute proceedings to acquire the right of way as in this Act provided, or otherwise.

"SEC. 23. Whenever any assessment tax levy or any bond to represent the amount of the cost and expenses of any improvement made or issued under the provisions of this Act has been set aside by any court of competent jurisdiction, or such court has refused to enforce any assessment tax levy, or has decreed any such bond or assessment tax levy not to constitute a valid and subsisting lien against the lot, piece or parcel of land upon which such assessment tax has been levied, then the supervisors shall cause a new assessment tax levy to be made or levied for the same purpose for which the former assessment tax levy was made or levied, whether any of such assessment taxes so levied have been paid or not and new bonds shall in regular course thereafter issue in the event that bonds were issued under or provided for originally. It is hereby made the duty of any court of competent jurisdiction in rendering its judgment holding invalid any assessment tax levy hereafter made, or of any bond hereafter issued representing the amount of any such costs and expenses of such improvement, to make a finding as to whether or not the making of such assessment tax levy was entirely without the power of the said board of supervisors and if not, then what omission, irregularity, illegality, informally or noncompliance with the requirements of this Act has occurred in the proceedings upon which said assessment tax levy and bonds rest, and what effect shall be given to them in making the new assessment levy. In the event that the court shall find that the proceeding, the expenses of which are represented by said bonds, was commenced in good faith and carried on pursuant to an ordinance or resolution of the board of supervisors providing for such improvement to be paid for by a special bond issue, it shall be the duty of the said court to order the making of a new assessment tax levy. The board of supervisors may, at the request of any interested party, or on its own motion, by resolution duly passed, set aside any assessment tax levy to be made and issued or levied without any decree having been obtained of or from any court regarding said matter, if in its opinion the assessment tax levy be invalid and it may take all necessary steps and make and pass all necessary orders, resolutions or ordinances to relevy such assessment tax and may relevy the same with the same force and effect as an original levy. The total amount of such assessment tax levy shall not exceed the total amount of the original assessment tax levy. Such an assessment tax so made shall become a charge upon the property upon which the same is levied, notwithstanding any omission, failure or neglect of any officer, body or person to comply with the provisions of this Act, and notwithstanding the fact that the proceedings of the board of supervisors, or any officer of the county or other person connected with such proceedings, may have been irregular, illegal informal or defective, or not in full conformity with the requirements of this Act. Such relevy of assessment taxes shall be made without a repetition of the proceedings had prior to the issuance of bonds and shall be made and issued in the following manner: The board of supervisors shall, upon the entering of the decree of court directing the relevy of assessment taxes, proceed at once to make a new assessment tax levy in accordance with the said decree of court. Such assessment tax levy shall be made upon the district described in the ordinance or resolution of intention for said improvement, and in the event that there shall have been informalities, uncertainties or ambiguities, in the description of the limits of said district then upon the district which the court or board shall find to be that actually benefited by said improvement, but in so finding, said court, or board shall follow the lines described in the ordinance or resolution of intention so far as the same can be ascertained, and in all cases of uncertainty or ambiguity they shall give regard to the lines described and make such determination as to the lines where there is any uncertainty or ambiguity in the ordinance or resolution of intention as may be just and equitable. In the event that a portion of the improvement has been found to be entirely without the power of said board of supervisors to order, then said levy of assessment taxes shall be for the remainder of the improvement only.

"SEC. 24. Any district formed hereunder, in order to determine the legality of its existence, may institute a proceeding therefor in the Superior Court of the county in which it was organized by filing with the clerk of said county a complaint setting forth the name of the district, its exterior boundaries, the date of its organization and a prayer that it be adjudged a legal protection district formed under the provisions of this Act. The summons, in such proceeding, shall be served by publishing a copy thereof once a week for four weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in such county in which any of the lands contained in said district are located. Within thirty days after the last publication thereof shall have been completed and proof thereof filed with the complaint any person interested may appear and answer said complaint, in which case said answer shall set forth the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of the district. If no answer shall be filed within said time the court must render judgment thereon. If an answer be filed the court shall proceed as in other civil cases. The judgment rendered thereon shall be conclusive against all persons whomsoever and against the State of California.

"SEC. 25. If, at any time, in the opinion of the board of supervisors, the expenditure of money is absolutely necessary to the welfare of such protection district, and there is no money in the funds of such district to make such necessary expenditure, or the money in such fund is insufficient to make such necessary expenditure, then the board of supervisors may advance such money out of the general fund of the county, and the same shall be a credit to the county to be repaid to the county as soon as there is sufficient money in the fund of such protection district to pay the excess, the board of supervisors shall direct the county treasurer to transfer to the general fund from the fund of such protection district, a sum great enough to balance the accounts.

"The board of supervisors is hereby vested with the power to provide for the carrying out of this Act and may appoint such engineers, superintendents, and assistants as may be provided for in this Act, in the manner and under the conditions herein provided. Said engineers, superintendents, and assistants shall be appointed as follows: any member of the board of flood control in counties where there is such, or the county surveyor, in counties where there is no board of flood control, may be designated by the board of supervisors to act as said district engineer. Or said board of supervisors may at their discretion appoint any civil engineer, who shall have had five years practical experience as such, as district engineer of said work. Said district engineer shall be appointed to serve until the completion of the work, as herein provided, and shall be subject to removal in similar fashion, and after similar procedure, as are other county officers, as fixed by the statutes of this State. His rate of remuneration shall be based on the importance of the work to be done, and shall be fixed by the board of supervisors in the resolution ordering his employment. The rate fixed shall not be less than $10.00 per day.

"Said district engineer shall appoint and is hereby authorized to appoint, subject to the approval of the board of supervisors, all field or office assistants, engineers, superintendents, inspectors, or other assistants necessary for the making of surveys, the preparation of detail plans, and the superintendence, and inspection during construction, of the work; provided, that in counties operating under civil service, all said assistants shall be appointed from the eligible list, for similar positions in the department of county surveyor.

"SEC. 26. Any such protection district may, except as otherwise provided in this Act, be dissolved by the board of supervisors as hereinafter provided. Upon receiving a petition signed by fifty or more freeholders and residents of such district, the board of supervisors shall fix a time for hearing such petition, which shall be not less than ten nor more than thirty days after the receipt of such petition, and shall, give notice of such a hearing by one insertion in a daily, weekly or semi-weekly newspaper printed, published and circulated in said county. At the time appointed for such hearing, or at any time to which the same may be adjourned, the board of supervisors shall hear and pass upon such petition and may grant or deny the same, and its decision thereon shall be final and conclusive. If such petition be granted the board of supervisors shall, by ordinance or resolution, order the dissolution of said district, and such district shall thereby be dissolved, provided that if at the time of dissolution of said district there be any outstanding bonded or other indebtedness of such district, then taxes for the payment of such bonded or other indebtedness shall be levied and collected the same as if such district had not been dissolved, and provided, further, that a district shall not be dissolved after the letting of a contract as herein provided for and before the issuance of bonds in pursuance thereof.

"SEC. 27. The provisions of this Act shall be liberally construed to promote the objects thereof. This Act shall not apply to or affect any proceedings that may be pending for the organization of a protection district under the provisions of any other Act now in force, shall not repeal any Act or parts of any Act now in force but shall be construed to be an alternative Act to any protection district Act now in force and effect.

"SEC. 28. In case any section or sections or part of any section of this Act shall be found to be unconstitutional, the remainder of the Act shall not thereby be invalidated, but shall remain in full force and effect.

"Nothing herein contained shall be construed as in any way affecting the plenary power of any incorporated city, city and county, or town, or municipal or county water district to provide for a water supply for such public corporation, or as affecting the absolute control of any properties of such public corporations necessary for such water supply, and nothing herein contained shall be construed as vesting any powers of control over such properties in said protection district or in any person, officer, board of commission referred to in this Act.

"SEC. 29. This Act shall be known as the 'Protection District Act of 1915' and by such designation shall be sufficiently identified in any proceeding thereunder, and whenever in the resolution of intention it shall be set forth or recited that the proceeding is under the 'Protection District Improvement Act of 1915,' this Act shall be construed as the paramount statute for such proceeding, independently of, and alternatively for, other statutes for the control and drainage of protection or flood control districts."

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NUMBER TWELVE.

Relative to the protection of second-growth timber on watersheds.

WHEREAS, The presence of standing timber or brush on watersheds is essential as the only natural means of water conservation; and

WHEREAS, The conservation of the public water supply is of vital importance to the citizens of the State of California, owing to the long periods in which the rainfall is inadequate to meet public needs, and the fact that great depredation is caused by erosion when the flow of streams draining said watersheds is unrestrained; and

WHEREAS, Vast timber or forest growths located upon many of the forest reservations and public lands of the United States have been seriously depleted by the removal of trees therefrom for commercial purposes, thus making the preservation of the second-growth timber essential to the present and future natural water conservation of said watersheds; and

WHEREAS, The process invariably followed in deforesting timber lands of the first-growth trees results in unused stumps, logs and branches commonly known as "slashings" being left to dry and decay upon the ground among or near to the uncut young trees and brush, thereby greatly increasing the fire menace to which said trees and brush are subjected; and

WHEREAS, The conservation of water on many other watersheds depends entirely on the brush fields located thereon, which are in their nature highly inflammable, and subject to an increased fire hazard due to the proximity of such deforested areas upon federal reservations and public lands, now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate and Assembly of the State of California jointly, That we respectfully urge the President of the United States to incorporate in a special message to Congress at the special session about to convene, the recommendation that Congress take such measures as may be necessary to require the agents of the federal government whose duty it is to protect the forest reservations and public lands of the United States, to remove from government reservations and public lands such slashings and other inflammable material as may endanger the timber and brush growth on watersheds.

After a district organized under the Act of 1891, mentioned in section 31 hereof, shall have been reorganized under this Act as provided in said section 31, the entire amount of bonds issued by such district under the provisions of said Act of 1891 may be presented by the holder or holders thereof to the Sanitary Board of the sanitary district issuing the same, and these shall be exchanged therefor and issued in lieu thereof to such holder or holders, by the Sanitary Board, bonds issued in accordance herewith for the various installments payable on the bonds so surrendered and said new bonds so issued in exchange for said old surrendered bond shall be payable at the same time and place as the installments due under the old bonds, if being the intention hereof to permit the surrender of sanitary district bonds heretofore issued payable in installments by the holder thereof, and the exchange therefor of a like amount of bonds of such sanitary district having a denomination equal to the installments payable under one or more of the bonds heretofore issued by any one sanitary district; said new bonds to be payable at the same time as said installments and in equal amounts: the amount of said new bonds to be payable in any one year to equal the amount of the installments on said old bonds payable in such year. All expenses of the exchange shall be borne by the holder of the bonds presented for exchange, and interest on the new bonds shall be paid at the same time and rate as on the old bonds. the year, and such portion of the principal as is due or is to become due during such year, and in any event the tax must be high enough to raise annually a proportion of the principal of said bonds equal to the sum produced by dividing the whole amount of said bonds outstanding by the number of years said bonds then have to run, so that the entire amount of principal and interest of said bonds shall be paid at or before maturity, and in any event within forty years of the date of issuance of the bonds, and it is hereby made the duty of the tax collector, or such other person as may be charged with the duty of collecting the sanitary taxes, to collect the said taxes so to be levied, and the duty of the Sanitary Board to order the same to be paid in manner and form as provided by this Act, and the duty of the county treasurer to pay the same. If, for any reason, any portion of the tax for any year remains unpaid, and in consequence thereof any portion of the interest or principal due for any year remains unpaid, the same shall be added to the levy for the next year, and be collected and paid accordingly. The payment of the whole amount of the principal and interest of all of said bonds, within forty years from their issuance, is hereby made the imperative duty of the district, and, if necessary for that purpose, a special tax shall be levied, and it is hereby made the duty of every officer and board to do his or its respective part towards the levy, collection, and payment of such tax; and mandamus shall issue from the Superior Court of the county in which the district is situated, or from any other competent court, upon application of any party interested, for the purpose of compelling the performance of the duty imposed by this Act upon any and all officers or boards.

"SEC. 21. If the result of any election upon the question of the issuance of bonds be in favor of such issuance, the Sanitary Board may, in its discretion, before such issuance, commence, in the Superior Court of the county, a special proceeding to determine their right to issue such bonds and the validity thereof, similar to the proceeding in relation to irrigation bonds, provided for by an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the organization and government of irrigation districts and to provide for the acquisition or construction thereby of works for the irrigation of the lands embraced within such districts, and, also, to provide for the distribution of water for irrigation purposes,' approved March 31, 1897; and all Acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto and all the provisions of said Act shall apply to and govern the proceedings so to be commenced by the Sanitary Board, so far as the same are applicable, and said proceedings shall be in accordance with the provisions of said Act, so far as the same are applicable, and the judgment in such proceedings shall have the same effect as a judgment in relation to irrigation bonds under the provisions of said Act."

Fire warning notices prepared by private agencies and approved by the State Forester shall, when posted, be subject to the provisions of this section.

"SEC. 6. Firewardens shall perform such duties as the State Forester may direct, in organizing fire prevention work, in fire patrol, in detecting or reporting fires, in securing evidence of violation of the forest laws of the State, in apprehending and convicting offenders, and in any other work necessary to carry out the provisions of this Act and other forest laws of the State. The State Forester shall appoint, in such numbers and localities, as he may deem wise, firewardens who shall serve voluntarily or under compensation from other sources than the State, such duly appointed firewardens to have all the powers given to firewardens under the state laws.

"SEC. 7. The State Forester, his deputy and assistants, and all firewardens provided for in this Act shall have the powers of peace officers to make arrests without warrants for the violation of any State or federal forest law. The State Forester, Deputy State Forester and Assistant State Forester shall have power to summon any able-bodied male between the ages of sixteen and fifty to assist in suppressing any forest fire, and the above mentioned officers shall have power to authorize any firewarden to summon any able-bodied male between the ages of sixteen and fifty to assist in suppressing any forest fire within their respective jurisdictions, and whosoever fails to obey such summons from any authorized State officer shall be punished as provided for in section 384 of the Penal Code; and every person who in obedience to such summons assists in extinguishing any forest fire shall be compensated at a rate not to exceed twenty-five cents per hour of service actually rendered.

"SEC. 8. Firewardens shall have authority to issue permits to burn brush, inflammable debris or rubbish under such general rules and regulations as the State Board of Forestry may prescribe and under such special restrictions regarding the time and circumstances of the burning as shall seem necessary for the safeguarding of life or property. To the end that the forests, ground cover, ranges and wild life may be protected against destruction by forest fires, and the public interest safeguarded, the State Forester and his assistants may enter upon any lands in the State for the purpose of inspection and examination relative to the proper methods of fire prevention, and may thereafter advise the owner or occupant of such lands in respect thereto. The State Forester, his assistants, employees and those acting under his direction shall not be liable for trespass while acting in the performance of their duties.

"Sec. 9. In order to bring about systematic forest fire prevention throughout the State, the State Forester may aid owners in the establishment on their lands of systems of fire protection, may prepare fire plans, may aid in the formation of fire protective organizations, may take such action as is necessary to co-ordinate the fire protective systems of different owners, associations and agencies may utilize the organization, facilities and equipment authorized under this Act in the work of patrol, discovery, reporting and preventing forest or brush fires, may supervise and direct the work of fire protection and fire fighting, may purchase equipment and supplies necessary for fire prevention, and may, where the public interest requires and if funds are available, employ fire fighters and incur such other expenses as may be necessary to protect life and property in a fire emergency, the cost thereof to be paid from the appropriation for the Board of Forestry. The State Forester is authorized, with the approval of the State Board of Control and under such terms as he may deem wise, to enter into agreements with persons, firms, associations, or corporations owning or controlling forest, brush or grass lands, or with any other agency interested in the promotion and suppression of forest fires, or with any combination or groups of such persons, firms, associations, corporations or agencies, for the purpose of co-operation in the employment of men and facilities, and for taking other measures for prevention and control of forest, brush or grass fires. The State shall not, however, pay more than one-third of the expense incurred for said protection. The State Forester is further empowered, with the approval of the State Board of Control, to enter into agreements with the federal government, with counties, with towns or municipalities, upon such terms as may be deemed advisable, or may be provided by law, for the purpose of co-operating in the prevention and suppression of forest fires. All sums chargeable to the State on account of any co-operative agreement as provided in this section shall be paid from the appropriation for the support of the Board of Forestry.

"Sec. 10. All forest areas containing inflammable debris which by reason of the location or condition or lack of protection thereof may further the spread of fire, or endanger life or property are hereby declared a public nuisance. All persons engaged in logging or permitting logging upon their lands or cutting trees for other purposes shall make and are hereby required to make such disposition of the inflammable slashings and debris as will effectively prevent the spread of fire or the creation of a menace to life and property.

"Whenever such a nuisance exists, the State Forester shall in writing notify the owner, lessee, the person in control or the agent of such owner or lessee of the land upon which said nuisance is situated, of the existence of said nuisance, and shall require that such nuisance be abated within a period and in a manner specified in such notice. But the State Forester may for good cause shown extend the time in which said nuisance shall be abated.

"Whenever after due and sufficient notice by the State Forester such nuisance remains unabated, the owner, lessee, the person in control, or responsible agent of the owner or lessee of the land on which said nuisance exists, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be liable to a fine of not more than five hundred dollars and the costs of prosecution for each violation thereof or failure to comply therewith. In event of the fine remaining unpaid, the same shall become a lien on the land in which the nuisance exists. Whenever because of the failure of an owner, lessee or agent responsible the nuisance remains unabated, the State Forester may cause the same to be summarily abated and the cost thereof become a lien on the land on which the nuisance exists.

"Sec. 11. Any fire in any forest or on other land burning uncontrolled and without proper measures being taken to suppress it, or which endangers life and property, is hereby declared a public nuisance, and any person, firm, association, corporation or agency owning or controlling land on which such nuisance exists is hereby required to abate it by controlling or extinguishing it. If the person, firm, association, corporation, or agency owning or controlling the land on which such nuisance may exist refuses or neglects to take proper steps to abate such nuisance, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not more than one thousand dollars in addition to the costs of prosecution for each offense. Any fine imposed shall become a lien on the land on which the nuisance may have existed. If the owner of land fails to take proper steps to abate the nuisance of a menacing forest fire the State Forester may summarily abate such nuisance. The expense of the summary abatement of a nuisance by the State as herein provided for shall be paid from the moneys that may be appropriated for the support of the Board of Forestry. Any and all expenses incurred for the summary abatement of the nuisance shall be and become a lien on the land upon which such nuisance shall have existed.

"SEC. 12. No such lien as is provided for in this law shall be filed or accrue upon the land of any person, firm, association, corporation or agency, who in good faith endeavors to prevent and abate any nuisance mentioned in this Act or who maintains a system of forest fire protection approved by the State Forester.

"Action to foreclose liens upon lands as provided in this law shall be begun within one year. Such liens shall be filed by the State Forester or under his direction within ninety days after the expiration of a period required by the State Forester for the abatement of the nuisance by the owner, lessee, or responsible agent of the land on which it shall have existed, or within ninety days after action shall have been taken by the State Forester to abate the nuisance. Proceedings to the satisfaction of such liens shall be instituted and maintained at the request of the State Forester and in the name of the people of the State of California by the district attorney of the county in which said lien exists and the costs shall be recovered in the usual manner.

"SEC. 13. Owners, lessees, or persons in control of lands upon which fires may be started or are burning are not relieved by any of the provisions of this Act from the duty of extinguishing or controlling such fires, and no such owner or lessee or persons in control, or any person in the employ of such owner or lessee or person in control, shall receive any compensation under this Act for extinguishing or controlling fire occurring upon or threatening the lands of such owner or lessee or person in control.

"SEC. 14. In addition to the penalties provided by the forest laws, the United States, State, county, or private owners, whose property is injured or destroyed by fires, may recover in a civil action double the amount of damages suffered, if the fires occurred through wilfulness, malice, or negligence; but if such fires were caused, or escaped, accidentally or unavoidably, civil action shall lie only for the actual damage sustained as determined by the value of the property injured or destroyed and the detriment to the land and vegetation thereon.

"SEC. 15. All moneys recovered under the provisions of the penal sections of the forest laws of this State shall be paid, less the costs of and compensation for collection, into the treasury of the county in which the money was collected.

"SEC. 16. Every fire warden appointed under the provisions of this Act shall be provided by the State Forester with a badge of authority which shall be produced whenever demand is made for such production.

"SEC. 17. Wherever in the forest laws of the State the performance or non-performance of any act or thing is made a misdemeanor, the person, or the officer, member, manager, agent, director or employee of any firm, association or corporation who shall direct the performance or non-performance of such act or thing is likewise and in the same manner guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished in a like manner as the person actually performing or not performing such act or thing.

"SEC. 18. For the purpose of this Act the word "forest" shall be taken to mean and to comprise lands wholly or in part covered with timber, brush or other similar vegetation.

"SEC. 19. Chapter 264 of the laws of 1905 and all Acts or parts of Acts inconsistent with the provisions of this Act are hereby repealed."

PETITIONS

The following petitions were presented and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Mr. Downing:

To the Assembly of California

We, the undersigned citizens of California, do hereby respectfully petition your honorable body to give your support to the following measures for the relief of the unemployed

Assembly Bill No. 19, for free State employment agencies.

Assembly Bill No. 501, to appropriate one million dollars (or as much thereof as may be needed) to give work to unemployed citizens,

Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 3, to empower the State to go into any kind of productive enterprise to give work to the unemployed, and

Assembly Bill No. 587, to eliminate the contract system of doing public work

GEO. W. PARKER, and others

By the Chief Clerk:

To the Assembly of the State of California

GENTLEMEN No demand has been made by the people of this State for a change in their own control of the judicial system through popular selection and election of judges of the upper and lower courts, for limited terms as fixed by our present Constitution. Not one representative of the common people has been heard by you for the substitution of a system of advantage only to the special interests, reactionary press, privileged classes, higher-ups and a small section of servile individuals seeking favors from those whom they expect will be appointed.

The people of California will not, if they know themselves and their inalienable right to freedom and popular government, give to any one man or clique the right to rule over the people through an appointive judiciary. No wonder every reactionary newspaper is favorable to tuckering with the popular control of the courts of the people. Though created by the people the courts have nevertheless proven in many instances the citadel of the privileged classes. By their control of the judicial system the people will be at the mercy of the special interests. The reign of appointed Archbalds, Hanfords, Swans, etc., will not be tolerated by a free people.

If a few bad judges are on the bench the people alone will accept the responsibility. They can drop them whenever they wish. Will this Legislature bow down to the reactionaries?

The small coterie with an axe to grind should not be able to swerve this Legislature from the pledge to the people not to attempt to so act as to endeavor to turn over a part of the governmental machinery to the elements that profit at the expense of the common people.

Long terms would place the judges as far beyond responsibility to the people as appointive terms would. The creatures of an appointive power would look to that power and to the special interest back of it for their inspiration. The plain people demand that none of the proposed constitutional amendments be offered. The people should not be put to the trouble or expense of voting down such measures. They are not in the interest of the people, and should not be submitted. No great popular movement is behind them. But a few persons stand sponsor for them, and their efforts are not for the benefit of the people. Whenever the people decide by a great popular movement to change their present system, they will be heard from in no uncertain tones. Let well enough alone.

Respectfully submitted

WM. F. HOWE, and others

The following resolutions were offered:

By Mr. Fish:

Resolved, That the remarks of the Speaker this day made in presenting to this House the documents bearing the name—"John Lapique", be printed in the Journal and that said documents be referred to the Judiciary Committee of this Assembly with instructions to examine the same and report to this Assembly its recommendations in regard thereto

On motion of Mr. Fish, the resolution was adopted

STATEMENT BY THE SPEAKER.

The Speaker has received by mail two documents under date of March 29, 1915, and one under date of April 15, 1915—all addressed to this Assembly. These documents are accompanied by two other documents received with the above, but not addressed to the Assembly. Inasmuch as these documents were unaccompanied by any letter of request or instruction, the Speaker has been somewhat in doubt as to their proper disposition.

It is in most cases presumably among the powers and duties of the Speaker to exercise his best discretion as to whether documents or papers sent to him should or should not be presented to the Assembly for its consideration. The documents in this case contain charges of a somewhat wholesale nature, demanding the impeachment of twelve judges of the Superior Court, one justice of the District Court of Appeal, and two justices of the Supreme Court of this State. All of these charges emanate from and are made by the same complainant—John Lapique.

The Speaker fully realizes that cases might easily arise where charges of impeachment might be brought against a State official when such charges are on their face of so irresponsible a nature and so lacking in reasonably probable justification as to make their investigation an unwarranted intrusion upon the time of this House. He realizes, also, the gravity of calling in question the character and reputation of a public servant of known integrity and probity in office, by the mere filing of impeachment charges, though such charges may never thereafter be substantiated in the slightest degree.

At the same time however, recognizing the constitutional right of any citizen to petition the Legislature for redress of grievances, and recognizing, also, the danger of establishing any precedent for the disregarding of charges for impeachment, the Speaker has concluded that he should not take the responsibility of withholding documents of this character from the Assembly, and he, accordingly, herewith presents them for the consideration of this body.

By Mr. Anderson:

Resolved by the Assembly That the Committee on Judiciary be requested and it is hereby ordered to report back to the House Assembly Bill No. 445 forthwith.

On motion of Mr. Anderson, the resolution was adopted.

By Mr. Avey:

RESOLUTION.

WHEREAS The State Highway Commission, having made the statement that in order to complete the entire system of state highways as originally contemplated at the time the bond issue of $18,000,000 was submitted to the people and carried, is not sufficient to complete the system as planned in a satisfactory manner; and

WHEREAS The State in order to complete the entire system as contemplated will require an additional sum of $12,000,000; and

WHEREAS Unless this amount is made available it will become necessary to disband and break up a splendid organization which the State Highway Commission now has in force and will leave many important roads in an incomplete condition; and

WHEREAS There is a moral obligation on the part of the State to complete this system of roads as originally planned, building all of the important highways in a permanent manner; therefore, be it

Resolved That the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce favors the submission of the question of the State issuing $12,000,000 of bonds in order that the system of State highways as originally contemplated be completed; be it further

Resolved, That we urge our representatives in the State Legislature to vote in favor of submitting this important matter to the people of the State at the next general election, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to each member of the California State Legislature.

I hereby certify that the above is a true copy of resolutions unanimously adopted by the Board of Directors of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce at the regular meeting held Wednesday, April 21, 1915.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NUMBER THIRTEEN

Relative to a measure pending in Congress known as House Joint Resolution 344, Sixty-third Congress, second session, providing for the appointment of a National Marketing Commission, and memorializing Congress to adopt the resolution so that it may immediately go into effect.

WHEREAS, Representative Goodwin, of Arkansas, introduced on September 10, 1914, House Joint Resolution 344, which was referred to the Committee on Agriculture and ordered to be printed; and

WHEREAS, House Joint Resolution 344 expresses the sentiment of a majority of the State Legislature of the State of California, said resolution in full being as follows:

WHEREAS, It is patent that there are defects in the economic system of the United States which affect adversely the producers and the consumers of agricultural products; and

"WHEREAS These defects have been accentuated by the European war, and to a degree justifying the recent utterances of the President of the United States in the matter of the high cost of living; and

"WHEREAS, Various attempts have been made from time to time to overcome these defects, mainly through non-governmental agencies, and recently under governmental agency under the Bureau of Marketing of the Department of Agriculture; and

"WHEREAS, Experience has, however, proven that the solution of this question is not to be found in non-governmental agencies, nor is it to be found in a governmental agency. It is to be found in a semi-official governmental agency, as is here proposed, as witness the success in the European countries of such a system, a system which has swept aside the trusts in food products and which renders the trust an impossibility; and

"WHEREAS The present abnormally high prices for food products not alone offers an opportune time for the establishment of a semi-official governmental agency as a means for the temporary solution of this problem, but also for the organization of the agricultural forces of the United States on the lines indicated as a means for the permanent solution of this problem; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the President be authorized and requested to appoint a National Marketing Commission to be composed of twenty-nine members, five of whom shall be farmers and fourteen of whom shall be selected with reference to their eminence in commerce, law, finance and transportation

"Sec. 2. That such National Marketing Commission shall meet in the city of Washington at a time designated by the President and organize by the election of officers, and adopt a plan of action for the effective organization of the states, counties, and localities of the United States for the economic distribution of the products of the farm, with power to act in so far only as affecting individuals and organizations that shall elect to become a part of this national marketing system"; and

WHEREAS It is generally recognized that there is imperative need of a more scientific system of marketing the farm products of the United States; and

WHEREAS, The above resolution, if carried out, will undoubtedly lead to an improvement of our marketing conditions; be it, therefore,

Resolved, That the Senate of the State of California, the Assembly concurring, respectfully requests and urges the Congress of the United States to adopt House Joint Resolution 344; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to the California Senators and Representatives, and to the President of the United States, who are hereby requested by this resolution to work in the interest of the passage of House Joint Resolution 344.

Senate Bill No. 499—An Act to provide for the formation, organization and government of protection districts in the various counties of this State, for the improvement and rectification of the channels of innavigable streams and water courses, canyons, washes or swales, for the purpose of saving and conserving any storm water, flood water or snow water for beneficial and useful purposes, for the prevention of the overflow thereof, by widening, deepening and straightening and otherwise improving the said channels, and by constructing new channels, for the condemnation of property therefor, and for the construction of the necessary works for the protection against, and conservation of said storm, flood or snow waters by said district, and for the issuance of bonds representing the costs and expenses thereof, and for levying assessments to pay the interest and principal of such bonds, and for levying an assessment to extend, repair or maintain such work.
